Hi Paul,
I'm out of office at lunch mtg, will return in about an hour. Which account does Darren want to use to write checks to get the euros? He can use any account, but the euros are ordered from a third party which determines the exchange rate.

I can call you right when I return doesn't sound like you can get euros in cash from the branch in that account so no need to send darren that letter???

See responses in Red:

For the USD withdrawal

- Once we receive the original Authorization to Cash Checks form from Darren, who does it need to be brought to and where does it need to be filed? Ie. with me, with the branch, etc. Once the original letter is received by the branch it will be filed by the branch staff and kept for future use.
- Once we receive the original form and it has been appropriately filed, when can he begin coming in to cash the checks? Is there any delay? Checks can be cashed same day, no delay. Just please give the branch a heads up if he's coming. Email to: [REDACTED]
