After i was informed yesterday that wire will be delivered the next day, I informed the recipient. At this time the recipient doesn't see any incoming funds posted to her account and it is too late to check with the bank today. Would be very helpful to have a delivery notification.

Thank you,
Bella

Did the recipient check with their bank? It usually takes some time for the receiving back to process.

We wouldn't know if it was kicked back until several days after value date.

Kind regards,
