

Amid Mass Layoffs, Deutsche Bank Is Shrinking Its Future HQ At Columbus Circle

Deutsche Bank — currently cutting thousands of jobs around the globe in a desperate effort to restructure — is slashing the amount of office space it plans to take at Time Warner Center. The German bank has reduced its space by 60K SF across two floors, The New York Post reports...

Read the full story here.

