The Preferred Shares may not be offered or transferred except (i) pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act and registration or exemption under any other applicable securities laws, (ii) to persons that are "qualified purchasers" for purposes of Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act and "U.S. Persons" for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and (iii) as otherwise permitted under the Issuer's transaction agreements.

The Preferred Shares have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state or non-U.S. securities commission or regulatory authority and none of the foregoing authorities has confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of any final offering circular relating to the Preferred Shares. Any representation to the contrary is a unlawful.

Any investment in Preferred Shares would be speculative, and may not suitable for all investors and would be intended for experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high economic risk of the investment, which may include, among other risks: loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging or other speculative investment practices; lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market; volatility of returns; restrictions on transferring interests; potential lack of diversification and resulting higher risk due to concentration within a single industry; absence of information regarding valuations and pricing; and less regulation and higher fees than mutual funds. There are numerous additional risks. See the Risk Factors and other information that will be set out in the definitive Private Placement Memorandum to be issued by the Issuer and the final Issuer documentation, if any.

No offer to sell or solicitation of offer to purchase any Preferred Shares may be made except pursuant to a definitive Private Placement Memorandum of the Issuer.
