

The Big Problem on the Ground

Airplanes cannot maneuver easily or move in reverse. They must hook up to a tow tug to push them back from terminal gates.

This process is expensive and time-consuming.