I had no answer overnight from the equities guys, but I am going downtown today and I will get working on this...
We also need to extend the GM account to Equity Derivs, working on it...
We are moving on with the KYC so hopefully adoptions are finished soon...
Enjoy the week, we'll cc you in emails if any update or anything to worry....

I'm out tmw and next week, but happy to chat via email or phone if you want to discuss this in any more detail. I think for now, you just pick a few low correlation pairs and show a couple of structural variations (tenor, strike, KI)

Hopefully by the time he sees something he likes, we will be set up to trade again. I think the CDS trade is still his top priority though
