Hello,

As you are aware, upgrading DB InSight has been a long-standing goal of ours, and we're pleased to announce that the new release is in production and our legacy site will be decommissioned on November 30th.

Below is a list of your clients that logged into legacy InSight in 2015/2016 but have not been migrated to the new site. In order to migrate them to the new site they will need to log into legacy InSight <https://www.dbinsight.com> and validate their email address by November 30th.

Attached is the email announcement sent to all clients in which we had an email address on file but many do not have an email or email has been returned undeliverable.

Please take the opportunity to reach out to your clients, let them know about the new release and encourage them to validate their email address to access the new site.

Thank you
