Paul -- Update on the below.

As Jeanne noted she still needs to send over a letter of authorization stating who has inquiry capabilities. They also have to change the Board of Directors Resolution as they miswrote the name of the company a few times. I have spoken with her and she understands and is aware of what needs to be changed. She's speaking with their lawyer now to have it updated.

Nothing on your end that you need to do but just want to keep you aware and up to date as to what is going on
