She is. Her phones are set up to get your phone. She saw me running for the phone and I told her not to get it since I thought I would make it in time. You haven't had any other missed calls today and next time I'll be sure to have her grab it even if I think I can make it

Hi, Sorry. Was running back to the phone and just missed it. I'm here. We have account numbers for the Brokerage accounts for Epstein. One one form they have to verify an email address which they neglected to do but we are able to send over the account numbers and just ask that they confirm and reply to us

Would you like me to send that over to them??
