FYI – In case JE or Rich bring this up. A Euro wire was initiated yesterday. It takes a day to settle. Should have been there today but the recipient is saying that it hasn't hit their account. We did everything properly on our side. It left the bank on time, we have confirmation it went out and it is most likely just being held by the recipient bank but wanted to let you know

The delivery notification is the wire reference #. I just initiated a trace on the wire. Arthur will follow up tomorrow morning when he returns to the office.

Kind regards,
Daniel Monaghan
