It may include contact from contractors working on our behalf to service your accounts. Message and data rates may apply. We may adjust our opt-in to change these preferences.

Notice About Electronic Check Conversion: When you pay by check, you authorize us either to use information from your check to make a one-time electronic fund transfer from your account or to process the payment as a check transaction. When we use information from your check to make an electronic fund transfer, funds may be withdrawn from your account as soon as the same day we receive your payment, and you will not receive your check back from your financial institution. Call the Customer Service number on the statement if you have questions about electronic check collection or do not want your payments collected electronically.

Guaranteed Payments: Any payment check or other form of payment that you send us for less than the full balance due that is marked "paid in full" or contains a similar notation, or that you otherwise tender in full satisfaction of a disputed amount, must be sent to: Card Services, P.O. We may refuse to accept any such payment by returning it to you, not cashing it or depositing it. All other payments that you send should be sent to the regular Payment address shown on this statement.

Annual Renewal Notices: If your Account Agreement has an annual membership fee, you are responsible for it each year your Account is open. We will send your annual membership fee by your monthly billing statement once a year, whether or not you use your account. Your annual membership fee will be added to your purchase balance and may incur interest. The annual membership fee is non-refundable unless you notify us that you wish to close your account within 30 days of one billing cycle following its first anniversary. We provide the definition on which the annual membership fee is billed. Your consent of the annual membership fee does not affect our right to close your Account and to limit your right to make transactions on your Account, if your Account is closed by you or us. The annual membership fee will an invoice be billed to your Account.

Calculations of Balances Subject to Interest Rate: To figure your periodic interest charges for each billing cycle when a daily periodic rate applies, we use the daily balance method including new transactions. To figure your periodic interest charges for each billing cycle when a monthly periodic rate applies, we use the average daily balance method including new transactions. For an explanation of either method, or questions about a particular interest charge calculation on your statement, please call us at the toll free customer service phone number listed above.

We calculate periodic interest charges separately for each feature (for example, purchases, balance transfers, cash advances or over-the-counter advances). These calculations may combine different categories with the same periodic rate. To file claims will vary with the method used on the three (rate or such) before described in your Account Agreement. There is a transaction fee for each balance transfer, cash advance, or check-by-deposit in the amount stated in your Account Agreement. There is a foreign transaction fee of 3% of the U.S. dollar amount of any foreign transactions for some accounts. Please see your Account Agreement for information about these fees.

We add transactions and fees to your daily balance no matter how:

- 1) the date of the transaction – for new purchases, balance transfers, over-the-counter advances or cash advances;
- 2) the date the paper deposits the check – for new cash advance checks or balance transfer checks;
- 3) the date of a related transaction, the date they are posted to your account, or the last day of the billing cycle, whichever is most adverse – for fees.

How to Avoid Paying Interest on Purchases: Your due date will be a maximum of 21 days after the close of each billing cycle. If you pay your account in full each billing period by the due date and there is no interest charged on new purchases over the month. Also, we will not increase interest charges on any portion of a purchase balance you pay while that balance is subject to an interest-free period. Subject to any interest-free period, for new purchases, we will begin charging interest from the date a transaction including any balance transfer, cash advance or over-the-counter advance, but no interest charge is added to your daily balance until your account is paid in full. Because we apply payments in excess of your minimum payment first to higher rate balances, you may not be able to avoid interest charges on new purchases if you have another balance at a higher interest rate unless you pay your balance in full each month.

Your Rights if You Are Dissatisfied With Your Credit Card Purchase

If you are dissatisfied with the goods or services that you have purchased with your credit card, and you have filed in good faith to resolve the problem with the merchant, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on the purchase.

To exercise this right, all of the following must be true:

1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50. (Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement we mailed to you, or if we saw the company that sold you the goods or services.)
2. You must have used your credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with cash advances from an ATM or with a check that debits your credit card Account do not qualify.
3. The card must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

If all of the criteria above are met and you are still dissatisfied with the purchase, contact us in writing at Customer Service, P.O. Box 15208 Wilmington, DE 19850-5208 or on the web at chase.com.

While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. Also, we finish our investigation, we will let you our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay on any report you as delinquent.
