Hi, just forwarded you an email from bank of China's recruitment department with a comprehensive Questionnaire. There is no answer for many of the questions. They appear to think he is applying for an internship or some sort of employment. In UK all pupils his age has to do unpaid "work experience" where they are at a work place for a week. It is obligatory and regulated by British authorities. Thousands of students are doing it this summer. See mail I sent from the Stowe school. Think it will be to complicated to do it with Bank of China. Probably it has to be a British organization who knows what it is.

just send the school letter with an explanation
