No worries; I'll try you later in the day!

Just as you are direct, I am direct as well. I know of no way to find the best programs in places with which I am not familiar, other than investigating them online and making contact with a few that seem optimal. You may have other resources, but I don't, and so as of now I'm not doing anything further on that front.

I don't either. I have no other way of knowing that programs exist. If I know they exist, I can vet them and make the appropriate contact.
