"From the world we actually live in, the world that is given by our senses, our intuitions of beauty and goodness, our emotions and impulses, our moods and sentiments, the man of science abstracts a simplified private universe of things possessing only those qualities which used to be called 'primary'. Arbitrarily, because it happens to be convenient, because his methods do not allow him to deal with the immense complexity of reality, he selects from the whole of experience only those elements which can be weighed, measured, numbered, or which lend themselves in any other way to mathematical treatment. By using this technique of simplification and abstraction, the scientist has succeeded to an astonishing degree in understanding and dominating the physical environment....many scientists came to imagine that this useful abstraction from reality was reality itself." -- Aldous Huxley

Awareness knows itself as both subject and object of experience
Both body and wall are modes of experience
The body is not the container of awareness but an ex

04:57:14 pm

But an experience in awareness.
Predator / Prey relationships are modes of awareness interacting with each other.
No species , because it has access to limited band of experience has access to reality
Evolution of species is evolution of species of consciousness / awareness
Matter is the interpretation of sense perceptions in awareness / modulations of awareness
It's a human construct that created the human universe .
Gluons quarks brains bodies galaxies are human constructs for modes of knowing and experience in consciousness/ awareness
There is only consciousness and its species specific modifications
All love from the construct Chicago

05:04:16 pm

None of this sits well with current scientific model
If there is a reality outside of consciousness it's unavailable to us
