

Platform: iMessage Timezone: UTC+0000 2018/09/29

most interesting is grasses

07:01:36 pm

are

07:01:39 pm

And also if you think about chromatophores in cephalopods - there is some weird ability to sense "something" and translate that into a projective color changing output

07:01:41 pm

Grass pretty smart. I grow some.

And chilis.

07:01:58 pm

And I have a 274 year old bonsai tree

07:02:18 pm

I think its a weird Carnivore.

07:02:31 pm

grasses grow everywhere .

07:02:36 pm

why skunks

07:02:48 pm

[REDACTED]

What other species emits long lasting but volatile odorant

07:03:09 pm

[REDACTED]

you

07:03:15 pm

[REDACTED]

Humans sort of do

07:03:28 pm

[REDACTED]

deer etc

07:03:37 pm

[REDACTED]

Sexual though

07:03:44 pm

I need an olfactory
Weapon

07:03:55 pm

[REDACTED]

grass, hemp. both super great

07:03:55 pm

[Redacted]

Yes
07:04:01 pm

[Redacted]

designed for humans.
07:04:13 pm

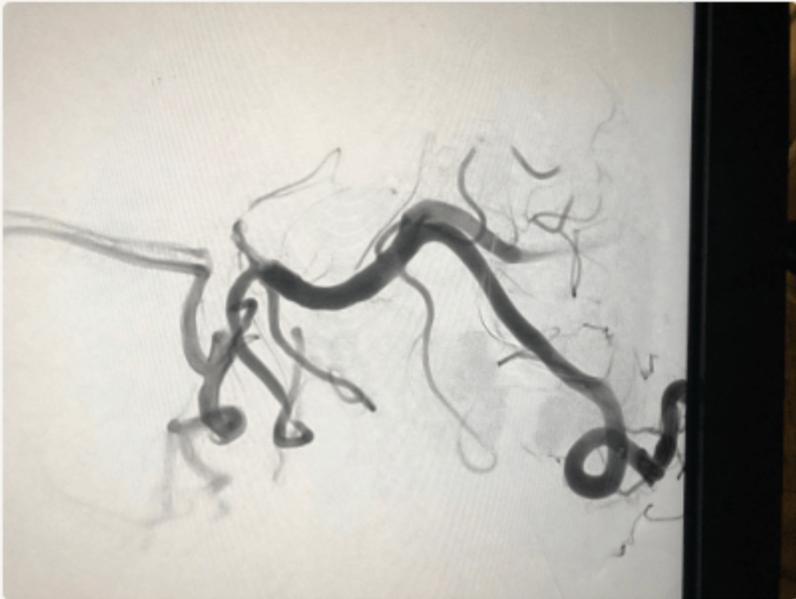

[Redacted]

Grass?
07:04:23 pm

Just did a cool
Case
07:04:29 pm

You can see a paucity of vessels heading into the brain

07:05:01 pm

Got them back

07:05:13 pm

Crazy stuff

07:05:13 pm

It's like playing video games except it's on people

07:05:25 pm

lets put the grass in the pet scanner.

07:05:57 pm

I had jennifer gates w me for a week

07:06:02 pm

one blade , the a bunch and then cut one

07:06:17 pm

[Redacted]

Have to tell you about it
Weird mentoring but she is fantastic
07:06:20 pm

[Redacted]

Ill fund
07:06:20 pm

✓ Sent

[Redacted]

Ok I want to do more w plant neurobiology
07:06:35 pm

✓ Read