You should see this museum in Paris by Frank Gehry. It opens this month. It looks amazing. It cost more then $135 million to build. LVMH put up the money to store their art collection.

You should read the article. It's in the New York Times today and it mentions Hermes and how they were being bought out by LVMH in an underhanded way.

Good thing you have your bullet proof car. You'll need it with the anti-Semitism that's rampant in France.
