immigration is very tough now. . you made some bad choices. they don't go away . . so has everyone else. I think you should consider a job separate from modeling. . school? .

11:29:16 am

I was just thinking maybe I should go to australia and attempt to apply from there for entry into America ? because I was hoping to try modeling in New York I know 23 is a bit old but I just don't feel I'm too late .. I still have so much hope.. ? I wanted to study veterinary nursing next year if in the end it failed but is so expensive almost 11000$ for the year just for the pre university course

I know If i never try I will always feel like I have a regret in my self :(

11:48:57 am

I feel like if I give up now .. I give everyone who didn't believe in me a satisfaction... and is something I can't live with... please I never wanted something so bad in my life.. please just don't give up and help me

11:53:02 am

Or would another possibility be if I applied to study in America

11:56:16 am

The only way I can think is if I get a ticket to Australia find a job immediately open a bank account and within one month 2 months maximum there I can apply for my visa to America

12:26:58 pm

If I could go now to Brazil do the operation then travel home do as I said above would be possible ?

12:28:35 pm
