The violation of the CVRA act. Brittany said they have been asking the victims to be interviewed bc they are investigating what happened in Florida. I can tell u when we talk tomorrow. I'm guessing she will tell us on the call tomorrow.

What OPR investigation are you referring to?

I don't think that we need to talk before the 3:30 call. To clarify, are any FBI employees under OPR investigation in connection with this case? I am not familiar with the scope of OPR's authorities to investigate matters.

I honestly don't know if a call is necessary since there isn't much to reference. I received the below email last week and requested to loop you in after I received an email from [REDACTED] in New York informing me that she had a phone call with a civil attorney for some of the women that reads,

"Amanda - I just spoke to Brittany and we may want have legal on this call with Stacie. Sounds like she is the DOJ rep assigned on the OPR case for the CVRA violations case. Brittany said she has been reaching out to the victims for interviews. Let me know if you want to discuss."

Again, this is all I know. Do you still want to have a call?

I have something from 12:30 to 2:00. Would 2:00 or 2:30 work?

Yes, 3:30 to 4:30 tomorrow works. However, my morning is full until noon. Would a call at noon work to fill me in? Thanks.

Good afternoon,

The Department is in the early stages of planning a meeting with the victims. Because you have been dealing directly with the victims, I want to discuss the best way to proceed forward.

I will send you a calendar invite for tomorrow from 3:30-4:30 p.m. I will also reach out to [REDACTED] as well.

Thanks
