Hi, [REDACTED] ... MM alumni association calling! Hope this finds you (and family) well in 2015. Where has the time gone??

I recently received some information from [REDACTED] which may be of interest to you. In short, [REDACTED] is aware of a [REDACTED] businessman [REDACTED] who previously recommended some workers to Jeffrey Epstein – workers who would have been employed around the time of the Prince Andrew criminal allegations, as referenced below in the summary taken from an online “Independent News” article from 1/7/2015.

[REDACTED] is in a position to provide this information, if it is of interest to you for investigative lead purposes. Though I could not share with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I defer to you for any next steps if appropriate. Know I also relayed this information separately to a colleague at CID/VCACU [REDACTED] however [REDACTED] was out of the office attending to a family matter.

[REDACTED] contact information is: [REDACTED]

That’s all the news from NYC island, where the weather is a balmy 22 ... will send a ‘wish you were here’ postcard once we thaw out! [REDACTED]

Prince Andrew sex allegations: Jeffrey Epstein 'the most dangerous sexual predator America has ever seen', lawyer's letter claims.

Epstein may be the most dangerous sexual predator the [US] has ever seen" according to claims in a recently revealed lawyer's letter, as it emerges that the FBI allegedly possesses "secret documents" about the American billionaire that could provide evidence for under-age "sex slave" accusations against him.

Epstein is accused of forcing a 17-year-old girl to have sex with Prince Andrew, Duke of York – a claim Buckingham Palace has denied. The reported FBI documents are said to show that Epstein controlled under-age girls who could provide evidence about the claims.
