Hello Gents,

Please see below regarding a recent email I received from a journalist.

I will not be responding to her but wanted to forward to you for your awareness.

Thanks,

Jason

Subject: help on a New Yorker piece

Dear Jason,

I am a longtime staff writer at The New Yorker. and I have become interested in [REDACTED] and what she and other minors experienced, because of Jeffrey Epstein. I plan to write a long piece about her, and I am contacting you at her suggestion. I would appreciate it very much if we could arrange a time to chat--it would be fine for you to be off the record, if you prefer. I live in Los Angeles, but I will also be in New York in the next month or so, and perhaps Florida, too. I'd prefer to meet, but we could of course speak on the phone. I hope we can work this out.

All best,

Connie
