

L. REBEL

DRINKING

teen

TRUE
scent

NORCOM INC. NORCROSS, GA 30071
42076 www.norcominc.com
MADE IN BRAZIL

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT

editor:
Danielle Nu

PEOPLE WATCHING

LIVE, LAUGH, LOVE!!!

hurry!

twilight

justice

Self-confidence is the most attractive quality
a girl can possess
—Frida Giannini

blues

SHOPPING
SPREE

OFF THE WALL

big deal!

less > more

RUNWAY

Life Energy Intelligence

Palm Beach billionaire going to jail

Story posted 2008.06.30 at 10:35 AM EDT

WEST PALM BEACH, FL -- Palm Beach billionaire financier Jeffrey Epstein pleaded guilty this morning to two felony charges and will spend the next year and a half in jail.

Accused of hiring underage teens for sexual favors, Epstein's charges include offering to engage in prostitution and solicitation of prostitution.

Epstein went to jail just before ten this morning.

His plea agreement ensures that Epstein will serve a total of 18 months in the Palm Beach Detention Facility.

Twelve months for felony solicitation of prostitutes and an additional six for procuring persons under 18 for prostitution.

The convictions stem from several incidents from August of 2004 to October 2005.

The State Attorney would not say how many female victims there are.

She would only say there was more than one adult victim and more than one under-aged victim.

After 18 months in the Palm Beach Detention Facility, Epstein will serve another 12 months house arrest at his Palm Beach home.

He'll be confined to his home except for work and other activities approved by his probation officer.

Twelve months of community service will be served at Epstein's own non-profit, the Florida Science Foundation.

The guilty plea and deal end a years long process that could have sent Epstein to jail for 15 years.

Within two days of Epstein's release he will have to register as a sexual offender - a designation he'll have to keep for the rest of life.

Story posted 2008.06.30 at 10:35 AM EDT

Part-time Palm Beacher faces another sex suit

By LARRY KELLER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH
— For the second time in two weeks, part-time Palm Beach resident Jeffrey Epstein has been sued for more than $50 million by a woman who contends that he engaged in sexual activity with her when she was a minor after enticing her to give him a massage at his home.

Epstein

More lawsuits may follow, Miami lawyer Jeffrey Herman said. "I'm aware of other victims," he said. "I have been contacted."

Herman filed a similar lawsuit against Epstein on Jan. 24 on behalf of a girl identified as "Jane Doe," her father and stepmother. The girl, now 17, says she was 14 when she gave Epstein a sexually tinged massage at his home.

The latest alleged victim is identified as "Jane Doe No. 2." She went to Epstein's Palm Beach mansion in 2004 or 2005 when she was 16, the lawsuit alleges. She says another girl recruited her to go there to give Epstein a massage.

Once there, she alleges, she was led to an upstairs room with a massage table. Epstein came in wearing only a towel around his waist and told her to remove her clothes. She did, except for her bra and panties, according to the lawsuit.

Epstein removed his towel, rolled onto his back, masturbated and touched Jane Doe No. 2 sexually, according to the lawsuit filed in federal court in West Palm Beach on Wednesday.

Jane Doe No. 2 was paid $200 afterward, and the girl who recruited her was given

See EPSTEIN, 5B ▶

1 plaintiff's parents at odds over suit

▶ EPSTEIN from 1B

involving their daughter. "The father has sole custody and has the right to make decisions on his daughter's rights," Herman said. Epstein is a wealthy New York money manager who has counted Bill Clinton, Donald Trump and Britain's Prince Andrew among his friends. He was the target of a lengthy investigation into his activities with girls by the Palm Beach Police Department that resulted in his indictment in July 2006 on one count of felony solicitation of prostitution. That case is pending.

Epstein has been sued in New York by a woman who says he had sex with her when she was 16. Herman said he has received calls from others making the same assertions in that state. Herman convened a news conference Wednesday on the middle bridge connecting West Palm Beach and Palm Beach.

"This is the bridge ... these girls were recruited to come over and give a massage," he said. "When they crossed this bridge, they had no idea what was in store for them. This is a bridge of tears."

Herman has described both Jane Does as typical teenage girls Epstein robbed of their innocence. But Harvard University law Professor Alan Dershowitz, another Epstein attorney, provided the state attorney's office with information gleaned from the Myspace.com Web site two years ago showing that some of Epstein's alleged victims boasted of their alcohol and marijuana use. Herman said the girls' backgrounds aren't relevant to Epstein's purported behavior. "They don't have the mental capacity to consent to something like this with a grown man," he said.

The mother asked in court filings to be added to the lawsuit, saying she "has suffered and will continue to suffer severe mental anguish and pain" as a result of Epstein's "reckless conduct."

Jane Doe "just didn't want the lawsuit going forward with the father's involvement," said Ted Leopold, the mother's attorney. "She wanted to pursue it on her own. The father essentially did this on his own."

Jane Doe has been estranged from her father since Thanksgiving, Leopold said. "That's why it's even stranger what he did," he said.

The girl's mother is asking a judge in their divorce case to find the father in contempt of court for violating their divorce decree by not conferring with her on a matter involving their daughter.

Both lawsuits contend that Epstein, 55, targeted "economically disadvantaged girls from western Palm Beach County" who were perceived as less likely to complain to authorities, or who whose credibility would be questioned if they did. "Both complaints are full of lies," said Guy Lewis, former U.S. attorney in Miami and one of Epstein's many attorneys. Jane Doe No. 2's lawsuit "is an outrageous, defamatory copycat of the first."

There has been a twist in the first Jane Doe lawsuit. Her mother in Georgia contends that her former husband — Jane Doe's father — consulted with neither of them before filing the lawsuit. She is asking a judge to halt the litigation until her daughter turns 18 in May and can make her own decisions.

The mother asked in court filings to be added to the lawsuit, saying she "has suffered and will continue to suffer severe mental anguish and pain" as a result of Epstein's "reckless conduct."

Jane Doe "just didn't want the lawsuit going forward with the father's involvement," said Ted Leopold, the mother's attorney. "She wanted to pursue it on her own. The father essentially did this on his own."

Jane Doe has been estranged from her father since Thanksgiving, Leopold said. "That's why it's even stranger what he did," he said.

The girl's mother is asking a judge in their divorce case to find the father in contempt of court for violating their divorce decree by not conferring with her on a matter involving their daughter.

© larry_keller@pbpos.com faith giving up guilt helpless

Shame Regret invaded emotional roller coaster

METRO REPORT

Weather, traffic,

COURTS

WEST PALM BEACH — Manhattan money manager and part-time Palm Beacher Jeffrey Epstein is scheduled for a plea conference at the Palm Beach County Courthouse on

Epstein

Jan. 4 — days before his felony solicitation of prostitution case is set to go to trial. A county grand jury indicted Epstein, 54, in July 2006 on the single charge. He was accused of arranging to have teenage girls brought to his manse and paying them. The charge is punishable by up to five years in prison. Epstein also faces the possibility of being marked a sex offender for life. Palm Beach Police launched an extensive investigation of Epstein after receiving a complaint about Epstein from the relative of a teenage girl who visited him at his home.

WEST PALM BEACH — The estate of an 82-year-old suburban Boynton Beach woman who was killed in a traffic accident last year sued Bob's Baricades on Friday for not safely routing traffic through a road construction site. Norma

Watering at a glance

Most of Palm Beach County's water restrictions are in effect. Odd-numbered streets are watered on Wednesdays from 4-8 a.m. Even-numbered streets are watered on Thursdays from 4-8 a.m. The Lake Worth and South Palm Beach areas are watered on a weekly basis.

Odd-numbered streets are watered on Saturdays from 4-8 a.m. Even-numbered streets are watered on Sundays from 4-8 a.m. More information:
■ Contact the Water Management Department at (800) 662-8888.
■ For lawn watering information, call the Palm Beach County Water Department at (561) 835-2222.

CHAPTER 2001-102

Senate Bill No. 698

An act relating to the statute of limitations for prosecuting certain sexual offenses; amending s. 775.15, F.S.; revising the date on which the applicable statute of limitations begins for certain sexual offenses committed against a minor; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (7) of section 775.15, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

775.15 Time limitations.—

(7) If the victim of a violation of s. 794.011, former s. 794.05, Florida Statutes 1995, s. 800.04, or s. 826.04 is under the age of ~~18~~ 14, the applicable period of limitation, if any, does not begin to run until the victim has reached the age of ~~18~~ 14 or the violation is reported to a law enforcement agency or other governmental agency, whichever occurs earlier. Such law enforcement agency or other governmental agency shall promptly report such allegation to the state attorney for the judicial circuit in which the alleged violation occurred. If the offense is a first or second degree felony violation of s. 794.011, and the crime is reported within 72 hours after its commission, paragraph (1)(b) applies. This subsection applies to any such offense except an offense the prosecution of which would have been barred by subsection (2) on or before December 31, 1984.

Section 2. This act shall take effect October 1, 2001.

Approved by the Governor May 31, 2001.

Filed in Office Secretary of State May 31, 2001.

Woman sues billionaire investor, says they had sex when she was 16

The Associated Press

NEW YORK — A billionaire investor, already facing jail in Palm Beach County on charges of soliciting underage prostitutes, is being sued by a young woman who says he had sex with her when she was 16 and had sought his help becoming a model.

The lawsuit, filed late Tuesday in Manhattan's state Supreme Court, says financier Jeffrey Epstein had the teen perform a sex act when she brought photographs of herself for him to review in his Upper East Side mansion sometime in 2000.

Epstein

Epstein, 54, a money manager, told the teen he managed finances for Victoria's Secret and "could get you into the catalog" if she were "nice" to him, court papers say. The papers say being "nice" included massages and other favors.

When the girl told Epstein, "I am 16 years old and just want to model," he replied, "Don't worry, I won't tell anybody," court papers say.

Epstein, said by London's

Mail on Sunday to be a close friend of England's Prince Andrew, has been indicted in Palm Beach on charges of soliciting underage prostitutes. That case is pending.

The girl visited Epstein "several times over the several months and engaged in bizarre and unnatural sex acts" while she was a minor, the lawsuit says.

Epstein "repeatedly requested that (the girl) return with her 14-, 15-, and 16-year-old girlfriends, stating, 'Come by with your friends your age next time. Don't bring Sherrie (a mutual friend in her 40s). I love girls your age.'"

The young woman, now 23, kept returning to Epstein because she has "mental issues," said her lawyer, William J. Unroch. He refused to elaborate, but court papers say she was "disabled as a result of severe mental disease and defect."

Epstein's lawyer in New York, Gerald Lefcourt, said, "The girl has admitted she is insane, but she can read a newspaper and recognize the word 'rich.'"

Lefcourt also said the statute of limitations has expired for the woman's case criminally and civilly, and will almost certainly be dismissed.

He refused to comment on Epstein's Florida charges.

Meanwhile, Unroch, 57, also acknowledged that his client was living with him and was at the center of a $10 million lawsuit he filed last year against a neighbor who said he was having sex with underage girls. That case is pending.

"What she was doing at 22 is irrelevant to what happened to her when she was 16," Unroch said Wednesday. He went on to say he hoped Epstein would agree to "do right" by his client and resolve the case out of court.

ACTIVE
AFFOR
RET
TAN
D
P
W
560878E

Girl sues Epstein, two others she says conspired in massages

Jane Doe, 17, sues in state court after dropping a federal suit.

By LARRY KELLER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — A former Palm Beach Community College student who police say procured underage girls to give Jeffrey Epstein sexual massages at his Palm Beach mansion, and Epstein's personal assistant have been sued along with Epstein over their alleged conduct.

The girl behind the lawsuit was 14 years old when she contends he engaged in sexual conduct with her after she went to his waterfront home in 2005 to give him a massage. Her lawsuit, filed under the name Jane Doe, seeks unspecified damages from Epstein for sexual assault and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

She also sued Epstein, [REDACTED] of Loxahatchee and [REDACTED] of New York City on grounds of conspiracy and civil racketeering.

"We just want a full measure of justice for this girl," said her attorney, Ted Leopold.

[REDACTED], who attended Palm Beach Community College, was paid by Epstein to bring girls to his mansion for massages and more, according to Palm Beach police. "I'm like a Heidi Fleiss," they said she told them. Her attorney could not be reached immediately for comment.

[REDACTED] was an Epstein personal assistant who arranged the encounters, even escorting the girls to his massage room, police alleged.

Epstein

"These two conspired with him to help with the criminal enterprise," Leopold said.

Jane Doe, through her father and stepmother, filed a federal lawsuit against Epstein in January. She dismissed it after her mother said she wasn't consulted about the litigation and sought to intervene. The mother is acting on her daughter's behalf in the latest lawsuit.

Epstein's lawyer has denied the girl's allegations and said her family is simply attempting to get money from a very rich man. Epstein, 55, is a Manhattan money manager who has homes there, in New Mexico and the Virgin Islands, in addition to his $8.5 million Palm Beach mansion.

Two other Jane Does have sued Epstein in federal court this year, making similar allegations to those of the first Jane Doe. Those cases remain active.

Also pending against Epstein in state court is a felony charge of solicitation of prostitution arising from the same alleged incidents with several girls. That case is set for trial in July, two years after he was indicted.

Jane Doe's new lawsuit, filed in Palm Beach County Circuit Court, is the most explicit in detailing Epstein's alleged misconduct. It is the only suit to include [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] as defendants, and the only one to make conspiracy and racketeering allegations.

Jane Doe will turn 18 in May. She lives with other family members in Palm Beach County, is nearing graduation from high school and is working part time, Leopold said.

© larry_keller@pbpost.com

Girls' lawsuit claims sex assaults

The minors are seeking millions from financier Jeffrey Epstein.

By BILL DIPAULO
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Two underage girls are accusing Palm Beach financier Jeffrey Epstein of sexually assaulting them in a federal civil lawsuit filed Wednesday by their Miami attorney.

Epstein has been in jail since pleading guilty in June to solicitation of prostitution of underage girls. He is serving an 18-month sentence.

"Both girls are seeking a measure of justice. This is a beginning of their healing process," said attorney Jeffrey Herman.

Herman is seeking damages of more than $100 million.

Epstein has the assets to cover the punitive damages, said Herman, adding that the financier owns an island off St. Thomas and property in New Mexico and New York.

There are four pending federal civil lawsuits and one in state court pertaining to Epstein's relationships with minors. At least one woman has sued him in New York.

Upon his release, Epstein, 55, will be under house arrest for a year and must register

BILL INGRAM/Staff Photographer

Attorney Jeffrey Herman, whose clients are suing Palm Beacher Jeffrey Epstein, speaks Wednesday outside the county stockade.

for life as a sex offender. He will be under a curfew from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. and must have no unsupervised contact with anyone younger than 18. He also cannot own nor possess pornographic or sexual materials, according to court documents.

The two girls, ages 13 and 16, met with investigators during the 11-month investigation by Palm Beach police. They are identified as "Jane Doe No. 6" and "Jane Doe No. 7" in documents filed Wednesday in the West Palm Beach section of U.S. District Court.

The 13-year-old visited Epstein's $8.5 million Intra-coastal mansion once and had sex with him, according to the lawsuit. The 16-year-old visited the mansion many times in two years for the same reason, Herman said. Both were brought to the mansion by friends, he said.

The charges against Epstein stemmed from a complaint to Palm Beach police about two years ago from a relative of a 14-year-old girl who had given him a naked massage at his 7,234-square-foot home. He paid the girls $200 to $300 each after the massage sessions, police said.

Police concluded that there were several other girls brought to the home in 2004 and 2005 for similar reasons.

Staff writer Larry Keller contributed to this story.

● bill_dipaolo@pbpost.com

'This was a typical 14-year-old girl. ... What happened here was despicable.'

JEFFREY HERMAN, lawyer for parents of girl, now 17, who accuses Jeffrey Epstein of sexual assault

Palm Beach man faces lawsuit in teen sex case

By LARRY KELLER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — The parents of a teenage girl sued part-time Palm Beach resident Jeffrey Epstein for more than $50 million on Thursday, alleging that the wealthy money manager had her brought to his mansion for a massage, then engaged in sexual activity with her.

The girl, identified only as Jane Doe, was 14 at the time. She was the youngest of several alleged victims of Epstein, according to Palm Beach police, who spent 11 months investigating him.

The federal lawsuit, filed by Miami attorney Jeffrey Herman, says "Epstein has a sexual preference and obsession for underage minor girls." Epstein "gained access to primarily disadvantaged minor girls in his home, sexually assaulted these girls, and then gave them money."

Herman, who specializes in child sex abuse litigation, sued on behalf of the girl, her father and her stepmother on grounds of sexual assault, intentional infliction of emotional distress and loss of parental consortium.

"Jane Doe ... fell into Epstein's trap and became one of his victims," the lawsuit says.

"We're dismayed by the filing of the lawsuit, but not surprised," said Jack Goldberger, one of Epstein's attorneys. "We think this

Lawyer Jeffrey Herman (left) conducts a news conference Thursday with the father and stepmother of a girl who claims wealthy money manager Jeffrey Epstein assaulted her in 2005. The parents seek more than $50 million in their lawsuit. Epstein, who faces a prostitution solicitation charge, is scheduled to enter a plea March 10.

BILL INGRAM
Staff Photographer

shows what this case is all about: money."

He and another Epstein attorney, Lilly Ann Sanchez, launched an immediate counteroffensive, even showing up at Herman's news conference outside the federal courthouse in West Palm Beach. They distributed copies of documents showing that the girl's father and stepmother have prior arrests for financial crimes the lawyers say show the lawsuit is financially motivated. Another Epstein lawyer, Gerald Lefcourt, a prominent New York criminal defense attorney, provided some of those

See EPSTEIN, 7B ▶

Epstein paid girl $300, suit claims

► EPSTEIN from 1B

documents to Goldberger.

"Jeffrey Epstein did not have sex with this woman," Sanchez said.

Herman suggested that Epstein masturbated in front of the alleged victim and used a vibrator on her after she was brought to his home in February 2005. The girl is now 17.

"This was a typical 14-year-old girl at the time she met Epstein," Herman said. "What happened here was despicable."

The girl told police investigators that she informed Epstein she was 18 when she met him, and she said that was her age on her Web page, Sanchez said.

The girl's father and stepmother also attended the news conference.

"We're very angry," the father said. "It's not right that this wealthy man can fly into town and destroy my daughter's innocence." He did not take questions.

Epstein, 55, is a mysterious New York money manager who owns a Manhattan mansion, as well as homes in Palm Beach, New Mexico and the Virgin Islands.

A Palm Beach County grand jury indicted him in July 2006 on one count of felony solicitation of prostitution stemming from alleged incidents between Aug. 1 and Oct. 31, 2005.

Epstein is scheduled to enter a plea in the case on

Epstein

March 10, but he has postponed other court dates to resolve the case.

His indictment followed an exhaustive investigation by the Palm Beach Police Department, which concluded that Epstein paid underage girls and young women to be brought to his five-bedroom, 7½-bath Intracoastal home for massages and sometimes sex play. Much of the language in the Jane Doe suit mirrors that of police reports in the case.

Herman's client said her meeting with Epstein was set up by [REDACTED] of Loxahatchee, who was a Palm Beach Community College student at the time. When Jane Doe arrived at Epstein's home, she was escorted by an Epstein assistant, [REDACTED], to a room with a massage table, police reports and the lawsuit say.

Epstein walked in wearing only a towel, removed it and lay naked on the massage table, the lawsuit says. He demanded that Jane Doe remove her clothing, and she did, except for her underwear, the lawsuit alleges. The sexual activity followed, the suit says.

Epstein paid her $300 afterward, and [REDACTED] got $200 for bringing the girl to him, the lawsuit says.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] helped Epstein arrange other liaisons with girls, Palm Beach police concluded. Neither was charged.

This is not the first time Epstein has been sued over purported activities with teenage girls. He was sued in New York in October by a woman who says she had sex with Epstein when she was 16 and had sought his help in becoming a model.

The lawsuit filed Thursday also alleges that Epstein has assaulted girls on his private island in the Virgin Islands. Herman declined to elaborate on that assertion.

© larry_keller@pbpost.com

Police say lawyer tried to discredit teenage girls

By LARRY KELLER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Famed Harvard law professor Alan Dershowitz met with the Palm Beach County State Attorney's Office and provided damaging information about teenage girls who say they gave his client, Palm Beach billionaire Jeffrey Epstein, sexually charged massages, according to police reports.

The reports also state that another Epstein attorney agreed to a plea bargain that would have allowed Epstein to have no criminal record. His current attorney denies this happened.

And the documents also reveal that the father of at least one girl complained that private investigators aggressively followed his car, photographed his home and chased off visitors.

Police also talked to somebody who said she was offered money if she refused to cooperate with the Palm Beach Police Department probe of Epstein.

The state attorney's office said it presented the Epstein case to a county grand jury this month rather than directly charging Epstein because of concerns about the girls' credibility. The grand jury indicted Epstein, 53, on a single count of felony solicitation of prostitution, which carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison.

Police believed there was probable cause to charge Epstein with the more serious crimes of unlawful sex acts with a minor and lewd and lascivious molestation. Police Chief Michael Reiter was so angry that he wrote State Attorney Barry Krischer a memo in May suggesting he disqualify himself from the case.

The case originally was going to be presented to the grand jury in February, but was postponed after Dershowitz produced information gleaned from the Web site myspace.com showing some of the alleged victims commenting on alcohol and marijuana use, according to the police report prepared by Detective Joseph Re-carey [REDACTED] a 20-year-old Royal Palm Beach woman who told police she recruited girls for Epstein, also is profiled on myspace.com. Her page includes photos of her and her friends, including one Epstein: His former attorney agreed to a plea bargain, police say.

Polygraph shows he didn't know girls' ages, lawyer says

► EPSTEIN from 1B

using the name "██████████" who was not charged in the case, is a potential prosecution witness.

According to Recarey, prosecutor Lanna Belohlavek offered Epstein attorneys Dershowitz and Guy Fronstin a plea deal in April. Fronstin, after speaking with Epstein, accepted the deal, in which Epstein would plead guilty to one count of aggravated assault with intent to commit a felony, be placed on five years' probation and have no criminal record. The deal also called for Epstein to submit to a psychiatric and sexual evaluation and have no unsupervised visits with minors, according to Recarey's report. The plea bargain was made in connection with only one of the five alleged victims, the report states.

Fronstin — who declined to comment on the case — was subsequently fired and veteran defense attorney Jack Goldberger was hired. He denies there was any agreement by any of Epstein's attorneys to a plea deal.

"We absolutely did not agree to a plea in this case," he said. Neither Belohlavek nor a state attorney's spokesman could be reached for comment.

The parent or parents of alleged victims who complained of being harassed by private investigators provided license tag numbers of two of the men. Police found the vehicles were registered to a private eye in West Palm Beach and another in Jupiter, according to Recarey's report.

"I have no knowledge of it," defense attorney Goldberger said.

The report also says a woman connected to the Epstein case was contacted by somebody who was still in touch with Epstein. That person told her she would be compensated if she didn't cooperate with police, Recarey's report says. Those who did talk "will be dealt with," the woman said she was told. Phone records show the woman talked with the person who allegedly intimidated her around the time she said, Recarey reported.

Phone records also show that the person said to have made the threat then placed a call to Epstein's personal assistant, who in turn called a New York corporation affiliated with Epstein, the report states.

The issue in the Epstein case is not whether females came to his waterfront home, but whether he knew their ages.

"He's never denied girls came to the house," Goldberger said. But when Epstein was given a polygraph test, "he passed on knowledge of age," the attorney said.

After the indictment against Epstein was unsealed this week, Police Chief Reiter referred the matter to the FBI. "We've received the referral, and we're reviewing it," said FBI spokeswoman Judy Orihuela in Miami.

The chief himself has come under attack from Epstein's lawyers and friends in New York, where he has a home. The New York Post quoted Epstein's prominent New York lawyer, Gerald Lefcourt, as saying his client was indicted only "because of the craziness of the police chief."

Reiter has declined to comment on the case.

Prosecutors have not presented a sex-related case like Epstein's to a grand jury before, said Mike Edmondson, spokesman for the state attorney's office. "That's what you do with a case that falls into a gray area," he said.

The state attorney's office did not recommend a particular criminal charge on which to indict Epstein, Edmondson said. The grand jury was presented with a list of charges from highest to lowest, then deliberated with the prosecutor out of the room, he said.

"People are surprised at the grand jury proceeding," West Palm Beach defense attorney Richard Tendler said. "It's a way for the prosecutor's office to not take the full responsibility for not filing the (charge), and not doing what the Palm Beach Police Department wanted. I think something fell apart with those underage witnesses."

Defense attorney Robert Gershman was a prosecutor for six years. "Those girls must have been incredible or untrustworthy, I don't know," he said.

Other attorneys said Epstein's case raises the issue of whether wealthy, connected defendants like Epstein — whose friends include former President Clinton and Donald Trump — are treated differently from others. Once he knew he was the subject of a criminal probe, Epstein hired a phalanx of powerful attorneys such as Dershowitz and Lefcourt, who is a past president of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers.

Miami lawyer Roy Black — who became nationally known when he successfully defended William Kennedy Smith on a rape charge in Palm Beach — also was involved at one point.

Said defense attorney Michelle Suskauer: "I think it's unfortunate the public may get the perception that with power, you may be treated differently than the average Joe."

© larry_keller@pbpost.com

Police kept watch on home, airport, sifted through trash

W S C

THE PALM BEACH POST

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 2006

51

After long probe, billionaire faces solicitation charge

By LARRY KELLER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Palm Beach billionaire Jeffrey Epstein paid to have underage girls and young women brought to his home, where he received massages and sometimes sex, according to an investigation by the Palm Beach Police Department.

Palm Beach police spent months sifting through Epstein's trash and watching his waterfront home and Palm Beach International Airport to keep tabs on his private jet. An indictment charging Epstein, 53, was unsealed Monday, charging him with one count of felony solicitation of prostitution.

Palm Beach police thought there was probable cause to charge Epstein with unlawful sex acts with a minor and lewd and lascivious molestation.

Police Chief Michael Reiter was so angry with State Attorney Barry Krischer's handling of the case that he wrote a memo

Epstein

► EPSTEIN from 1B

suggesting the county's top prosecutor disqualify himself.

"I must urge you to examine the unusual course that your office's handling of this matter has taken and consider if good and sufficient reason exists to require your disqualification from the prosecution of these cases," Reiter wrote in a May 1 memo to Krischer.

While not commenting specifically on the Epstein case, Mike Edmondson, spokesman for the state attorney, said his office presents cases other than murders to a grand jury when there are questions about witnesses' credibility and their ability to testify.

By the nature of their jobs, police officers look at evidence from a "one-sided perspective," Edmondson said. "A prosecutor has to look at it in a much broader fashion," weighing the veracity of witnesses and how they may fare under defense attorneys' questioning, he said.

Epstein's attorney, Jack Goldberger, said his client committed no crimes.

"The reports and statements in question refer to false accusations that were not charged because the Palm Beach County state attorney questioned the credibility of the witnesses," Goldberger said. A county grand jury "found the allegations wholly unsubstantiated and not credible," and that's why his client was not charged with sexual activity with minors, he said.

Goldberger said Epstein passed a lie detector test administered by a reputable polygraph examiner in which he said he did not know the girls were minors. Also, a search warrant served on Epstein's home found no evidence to corroborate the girls' allegations, Goldberger said.

According to police documents:

■ A Palm Beach Community College student said she gave Epstein a massage in the nude, then brought him six girls, ages 14 to 16, for massage and sex-tinged sessions at his home.

■ A 27-year-old woman who worked as Epstein's personal assistant also facilitated the liaisons, phoning the PBCC student to arrange for girls when Epstein was coming to town. And she escorted the girls upstairs when they arrived, putting fresh sheets on a massage table and placing massage oils nearby.

■ Police took sworn statements from five alleged victims and 17 witnesses. They contend that on three occasions, Epstein had sex with the girls.

The chief's letter

See the letter Palm Beach Police Chief Michael Reiter wrote to State Attorney Barry Krischer on the Epstein case.

PalmBeachPost.com

A money manager for the ultra-rich, Epstein was named one of New York's most eligible bachelors in 2003 by The New York Post. He reportedly hobnobs with the likes of former President Clinton, former Harvard University President Lawrence Summers and Donald Trump, and has lavish homes in Manhattan, New Mexico and the Virgin Islands.

He has contributed tens of thousands of dollars to Democratic Party candidates and organizations, including Sen. John Kerry's presidential bid, and the Senate campaigns of Joe Lieberman, Hillary Clinton, Christopher Dodd and Charles Schumer.

Goldberger is one of five attorneys Epstein has retained since he became the subject of an investigation, Edmondson said. Among the others: Alan Dershowitz, the well-known Harvard law professor and author, who is a friend of Epstein. Dershowitz could not be reached for comment.

Police said the woman who enlisted young girls for Epstein was [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] 20 of Royal Palm Beach. [REDACTED] has worked at an Olive Garden restaurant in Wellington and said she was a journalism major at Palm Beach Community College when she was questioned by police last October. She has an unlisted phone number and could not be reached for comment.

[REDACTED] said she met Epstein when, at age 17, a friend asked her if she would like to make money giving him a massage. She said she was driven to his five-bedroom, 7½-bath home on the Intra-coastal Waterway, then escorted upstairs to a bedroom with a massage table and oils. Epstein and [REDACTED] were both naked during the massage, she said, but when he grabbed her buttocks, she said she didn't want to be touched.

Epstein said he'd pay her to bring him more girls — the younger the better, [REDACTED] told police. When she tried once to bring a 23-year-old woman to him, Epstein said she was too old, [REDACTED] said.

[REDACTED], who has not been charged in the case, said she eventually brought six girls to Epstein who were paid $200 each time, [REDACTED] said. "I'm like a Heidi Fleiss," police quoted her as saying. The girls knew what to expect when they were taken to Epstein's home, [REDACTED] said.

Give a massage — maybe naked — and allow some touching.

One 14-year-old girl Robson took to meet Epstein led police to start the investigation of him in March 2005. A relative of the girl called to say she thought the child had recently engaged in sex with a Palm Beach man. The girl then got into a fight with a classmate who accused her of being a prostitute, and she couldn't explain why she had $300 in her purse.

The girl gave police this account of her meeting with Epstein:

She accompanied [REDACTED] and a second girl to Epstein's house on a Sunday in February 2005. Once there, a woman she thought was Epstein's assistant told the girl to follow her upstairs to a room featuring a mural of a naked woman, several photographs of naked women on a shelf, a hot pink and green sofa and a massage table.

She stripped to her bra and panties and gave him a massage.

Epstein gave the 14-year-old $300 and she and the other girls left, she said. She said [REDACTED] told her that Epstein paid her $200 that day.

Other girls told similar stories. In most accounts, Epstein's personal assistant at the time, [REDACTED] now 27, escorted the girls to Epstein's bedroom.

[REDACTED], whose most recent known address is in North Carolina, has not been charged in the case.

Palm Beach police often conducted surveillance of Epstein's home, and at Palm Beach International Airport to see if his private jet was there, so they would know when he was in town. Police also arranged repeatedly to receive his trash from Palm Beach sanitation workers, collecting papers with names and phone numbers, sex toys and female hygiene products.

One note stated that a female could not come over at 7 p.m. because of soccer. Another said a girl had to work Sunday — "Monday after school?" And still another note contained the work hours of a girl, saying she leaves school at 11:30 a.m. and would come over the next day at 10:30 a.m.

Only three months before the police department probe began, Epstein donated $90,000 to the department for the purchase of a firearms simulator, said Jane Struder, town finance director. The purchase was never made. The money was returned to Epstein on Monday, she said.

Staff writers Andrew Marra and Tim O'Meilie and staff researcher Angelica Cortez contributed to this story.

© larry_keller@pbpost.com

Jeffrey Epstein Opens Up About Sex Crime Investigation

New York | Phillip Weiss | December 10, 2007 09:55 AM

Read More: Bear Stearns, Dalton School, Gerald Lefcourt, Howard Rubenstein, Jeff Epstein, Jeffrey Epstein, Palm Beach Island, Peggy Siegal, Breaking Business News

Jeffrey Epstein is under indictment for sex crimes in Palm Beach, Florida, and I'd expected that when he came into the office of PR guru Howard Rubenstein, he would be sober and reserved. Quite the opposite. He was sparkling and ingenuous, apologizing for the half-hour lateness with a charming line—"I never realized how many one-way streets and no-right-turns there are in midtown. I finally got out and walked"—and as we went down the corridor to Rubenstein's office, he asked, "Have you managed to talk to many of my friends?" Epstein had been supplying me the phone numbers of important scientists and financiers and media figures. "Do you understand what an extraordinary group of people they are, what they have accomplished in their fields?"

One of the accusers—a girl of 14—had put his age at 45, not in his fifties, and you could see why. His walk was youthful, and his face was ruddy with health. He had none of the round-shouldered, burdened qualities of middle age. There was nothing in his hands, not a paper, a book, or a phone. Epstein had on his signature outfit: new blue jeans and a powder-blue sweater. "I've only ever seen him in jeans," his friend the publicist Peggy Siegal had reported, saying there was a hint of arrogance in that, Epstein's signal that he doesn't have to wear a uniform like the rest of us.

I told Epstein and Rubenstein the sort of story New York wanted to do, and Epstein seemed to find ironic delight in every word. "A secretive genius," I'd said. "Not secretive, private," he corrected in his warm Brooklyn accent. "And if I was a genius I wouldn't be sitting here." "A guy with sex issues." A smile formed on Epstein's bow-shaped lips. "What do you mean by sex issues?" Well ... He was 54, had never married—I didn't finish. "Are you channeling my mother?"

"Other girls said they were weirded out, grossed out. They didn't like his egg-shaped penis, definitely didn't want it inside them."

Am I naive? I'm not sure what an egg-shaped penis looks like. There definitely should be a picture of it on the internet. Mr. Epstein seems to want people to see it. He is in the same league as a subway flasher, except he has a bit of money. And molests girls.

What you would get if you put Jeffrey Epstein, striking Hollywood writers and YouTube together? Is Andy Samberg available? Of course, Mr. Epstein probably needs therapy not ridicule.

Favorite Flag as abusive Posted 08:44 AM on 12/11/2007
- realnoia See Profile I'm a Fan of realnoia permalink

Just like Bill O'Reilly describing his falafel creature on the phone and salivating all over himself. Sex addiction is bad enough but with HGH or steroids it's a monster. Bills wife understands perfectly.

SEX CASE 'VICTIMS' LINING UP

October 15, 2007 – LAWYERS for Manhattan billionaire investor Jeffrey Epstein - who's agreed to plead guilty to soliciting underage hookers - are bracing for a slew of lawsuits from as many as 40 young women who came to his Palm Beach mansion for massage sessions, Page Six has learned.

And in a bid to squash a possible pile-up of messy civil actions, Epstein's legal eagles, led by Gerald Lefcourt, are mulling a possible lump-sum offer to settle the claims all at once, said sources close to the police investigation. But the attorneys believe many of the suits could be frivolous. "You are a girl who is broke who uses drugs. Here's your shot at getting some money," one insider said.

Individual Re
Getting started i

During the probe that led to Epstein's plea deal, which will put him behind bars for 18 months, underage girls told cops they claimed to be 18 or over and gave the financier massages for hundreds of dollars per session. One girl, described in court documents as just 14, said Epstein used a "purple vibrator" on her while she partially stripped. Cops say Epstein's assistant, [REDACTED] helped arrange the massages.

Open a N

"The lawyers have identified up to 40 women who could come forward, even though some of them didn't even see Epstein - they just accompanied their friends and stayed in the kitchen and had lunch," the source said.

Banc of America
Investment Services, Inc

Epstein's legal team is also fighting to get some portions of the police report chronicling the sleazy activities changed. "For example, the state police reported finding in Mr. Epstein's garbage a 'sex toy.' But it later turned out this 'sex toy' was really a broken salad fork," the insider said.

ALL CLASSIFIEDS

Lefcourt had no comment.

DATING JOBS

New Cars

Select a Year

Select a Make

Meanwhile, the Mar-a-Lago Club in Palm Beach last night confirmed a Web site report that Epstein has been banned there. "He would use the spa to try to procure girls. But one of them, a masseuse about 18 years old, he tried to get her to do things," a source told us. "Her father found out about it and went absolutely ape-[bleep]. Epstein's not allowed back." Epstein denies he is banned from Mar-a-Lago and says, in fact, he was recently invited to an event there.

JEFFREY EPSTEIN KEEPING IT REAL IN JAIL

At least pervert billionaire Jeffrey Epstein isn't getting lonely while serving out his 18-month jail sentence for pleading guilty to receiving inappropriate massages from inappropriately young girls: the Palm Beach Post takes a look at the visitor's log to Epstein's dorm at the 17-acre, 967-bed stockade at the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, and it's quite the rotating cast of characters! (Hint: featuring some very special young ladies.)

There's 29-year-old [redacted] the lady formerly tasked with wrangling young masseuses for Epstein and bringing them to his purple vibrator-filled home (she's visited three times); [redacted] stuntman Igor Zinoviev (seven visits); and even an artificial intelligence and linguistics expert from Northwestern named Roger Schank, whom Epstein paid to visit. One hopes the enterprising Schank was compensated extra for that.)

By Neel Shah 08/12/08 12:00 PM
Related: Jeffrey Epstein, Prison
Patrol, Scandal

Judge: Palm Beach sex offender Jeffrey Epstein agreement to remain sealed

Click-2-Listen

By MICHELE DARGAN
Palm Beach Daily News Staff Writer
Tuesday, February 17, 2009

A federal judge has ruled that a non-prosecution document under which the government agreed not to pursue federal charges against sex offender Jeffrey Epstein will remain under seal - at least for now.

Jeffrey Epstein
Billionaire financier Jeffrey Epstein has been sentenced to 18 months for felony solicitation of prostitution following accusations by teen girls.

Past coverage

More local news
Latest breaking news, photos and all of today's Post stories.

On the beat, behind the agenda: Post reporters cover your area in City Pulse.

Share This Story

- Y Buzz
 - digg
 - reddit
 - Facebook
 - Fark
 - del.icio.us
 - Newsvine
 - Technorati
 - Twitter
 - More
- What are these?

The U.S. Attorney's Office and Epstein's lawyers reached the agreement before Epstein pleaded guilty to state felony charges, and the document is under seal in Epstein's state criminal file.

Representing two of Epstein's victims, attorney Brad Edwards asked to have the document unsealed as part of his federal lawsuit against the Manhattan money manager. Although Edwards and his victims have seen the agreement, Edwards says in his pleadings that the government has "inaccurately described the agreement ... creating a false impression that the agreement protects the victims."

U.S. District Judge Kenneth Marra ruled that the claims, even if true, haven't damaged Edwards' case.

"If and when such alleged mischaracterizations become relevant to an issue to be decided by the court, the parties will be given the opportunity to advance their positions and the court will resolve the issue," he wrote. "If disclosure of the agreement will be required for the court to resolve this issue, appropriate disclosure will be ordered."

Seeking to keep the agreement sealed, Assistant U.S. Attorney Dexter Lee argued that the agreement is not part of any case before Marra.

"The non-prosecution agreement has never been filed under seal in federal court," he wrote.

He also denied that the agreement has been inaccurately described.

Marra sided with Lee on the argument that the agreement was not filed in federal court "under seal or otherwise."

On Aug. 14, Marra ruled that the non-prosecution agreement would be unsealed for Edwards and any of the victims who want to see it. But the ruling bars Edwards and anyone else who sees the document from disclosing the terms to anyone else.

In his motion to unseal, Edwards said he wants to be able to discuss the terms of the agreement with other victims and their attorneys as well as with other victims' rights groups such as the National Alliance of Victims' Rights Attorneys.

The desire to discuss the agreement with third parties is not justification for unsealing the document, Marra ruled.

"If a specific tangible need arises in a civil case ... relief should be sought in that case," he wrote.

Epstein, 56, is serving 18 months in jail for soliciting prostitution and procuring a minor for prostitution.

Under the agreement, federal prosecutors will defer their decision on whether to prosecute Epstein on federal charges until 90 days after Epstein completes all requirements of his state sentence.

Judge: Palm Beach sex offender Jeffrey Epstein agreement to remain sealed

Page 2 of 3

If he abides by all court conditions and restrictions, the federal case would be dropped.

In addition to the state criminal case, there are nine federal and seven state lawsuits pending against Epstein.

All contain similar allegations: The Manhattan money manager, through his employees and assistants, brought minor girls to his Palm Beach home at 358 El Brillo Way for erotic massages and sometimes sex.

Moral philosophy

The general moral philosophy behind age of consent laws is the assumed need for the protection of minors. It is a common belief in many societies that minors below a certain age lack the maturity or life experience to fully understand the ramifications of engaging in sexual acts. These fears may include but are not limited to resulting pregnancies and psychological or physical damage. There is an ongoing debate in many cultures regarding child sexuality as it relates to age and an appropriate age of consent.^[1] It is these debates that have informed the various laws in different jurisdictions and account for their disparity.

Law

Sexual relations with a person under the age of consent is in general a criminal offence, with punishments ranging from community service up to and including the death penalty. Many different terms exist for the charges laid and include child sexual abuse, statutory rape, illegal carnal knowledge, or corruption of a minor.^[1]

The enforcement practices of age of consent laws tend to vary depending on the social sensibilities of the particular culture (see above). Often enforcement is not exercised to the letter of the law, with legal action being taken only when a sufficiently socially-unacceptable age gap exists between the two individuals, or if the perpetrator is in a position of authority over the minor -- e.g., a teacher, priest or doctor. The gender of each actor can also influence perceptions of an individual's guilt and therefore enforcement.^[1]

In many jurisdictions, age of consent is interpreted to mean mental or functional age.

PRISON PATROL

WHITEWATER'S STARR GETTING EPSTEIN OFF?

By the time you read this, Whitewater special prosecutor Kenneth Starr will likely have touched down in Palm Beach, Florida, to meet with federal prosecutors and Jeffrey Epstein, a billionaire money manager now facing an indictment and prison time stemming from allegations of sexual crimes with underage girls.

Many insiders believe Starr—the prosecutor in the Clinton-Lewinsky sex scandal—will work his powerful connections to get Epstein excused of the charges.

STARR TURN Ken

Epstein (a past Radar investor with the New York Daily News's Mort Zuckerman) arrived in Palm Beach yesterday on his private 727 to face charges of transporting minors across state lines for prostitution. He was arrested last year and documents were revealed that detailed Epstein's alleged private prostitution ring, in which he'd pay high school girls as young as 14 an average of $300 a pop for erotic massages while he fondled them and masturbated into a towel, often employing the use of brightly colored sex toys. Sources close to the case say Starr, who's still well-connected in Republican circles, has swooped into Palm Beach as well—on Epstein's other private jet—in hopes of striking a deal that would let Epstein go with a wrist slap and no time behind bars.

It's been a long, twisted road leading to this point for the former social scener, a road many close to the case say was paved with favoritism, backroom deals, and dirty smear tactics by Epstein and his well-connected, high-priced team of attorneys and private investigators. His legal problems began in July 2006, when he was indicted in Palm Beach on one felony count of solicitation of prostitution.

His arrest was the result of a 15-month investigation by the Palm Beach police department into allegations that he was soliciting high school girls for sexual massages. According to a number of the police interviews, the naive young girls believed they would be paid only for "massaging an old white guy." But Palm Beach Police Chief Michael Reiter developed a disgust for what he believed to be preferential treatment given to wealthy Epstein in the investigation and had called in the FBI.

According to police documents, on April 17, 2006, Epstein called in Harvard Law professor—and the lawyer who successfully defended Deep Throat actor Harry Reems—Alan Dershowitz and powerful attorney Guy Fronstin, who secured him a plea bargain. Epstein would plead guilty to one count of aggravated assault in exchange for five years probation, a psychiatric evaluation, and no unsupervised visits with minors. In all probability, the man once declared one of the most eligible bachelors in Manhattan would be labeled a pedophile.

But three weeks later, according to a May 4 police report, as authorities were ready to charge Epstein with four counts of unlawful sexual activity with minors and one count of lewd and lascivious molestation, he hired new lawyers, and Palm Beach County State Prosecutor Barry Krischer let them renege on Epstein's deal, the result of events too perfect to attribute to serendipity. (Despite repeated requests, the prosecutor's office would not comment for this story.)

Epstein had spoken with Manhattan criminal attorney Gerald Lefcourt to review his options. Within days, Lefcourt brought in Palm Beach criminal attorney Jack Goldberger who just happened to know state attorney Krischer before he became a prosecutor. But not only was Goldberger friendly with the man prosecuting Epstein, his partner was married to the assistant sex-crimes prosecutor who had been spearheading the Epstein investigation—faced suddenly with the glaring conflict, the sex-crimes investigator resigned from the case. Epstein's deal was abandoned and a new assistant prosecutor was assigned.

Epstein was so thrilled by Goldberger's work that shortly after he was indicted on just a single prostitution charge, he bought the Palm Beach lawyer a black, top-of-the-line 500 series BMW. Less than six weeks later, Goldberger totaled the car in a collision. Makes one wonder what sort of gift would be bestowed upon Starr should he score Epstein a get-out-of-jail free card as early as today. A box of fine cigars, perhaps?

By FI Staff 09/07/07 7:33 AM

| Print | E-mail | Recommend It | Share It

Warrants Were Prepared to Arrest Others in Millionaire Sex Scandal

July 28, 2006 12:24 PM

Palm Beach police were planning to arrest two women in connection with their investigation into Jeffrey Epstein, the New York financier who has been charged with solicitation, though police say he also engaged in illegal sexual activity with minors.

According to police investigative documents obtained by ABC News, police prepared and submitted arrest warrant requests in May for [REDACTED] Epstein's assistant, standing on the right side of the picture, and [REDACTED] pictured in the middle, who police say was paid by Epstein to bring over young and underage girls to his house to massage Epstein.

[REDACTED] was to be arrested as a principal in the first degree on four counts of unlawful sexual activity with certain minors and as a principal in the first degree on one count of lewd and lascivious molestation. [REDACTED] warrant was for lewd and lascivious acts on a victim under 16 years of age.

According to police documents, some of the girls who massaged Epstein claimed that his assistant [REDACTED] would often prepare the massage table and arrange the oils before Epstein's massages. [REDACTED] would also allegedly call the girls when Epstein was in town to see if they wanted "work." One girl told police, "Work is the term used by [REDACTED] to provide the massage in underwear," according to police documents.

One girl also claimed that [REDACTED] had attempted to reach her after the girl had been interviewed by police to talk about the questioning, according to police documents.

[REDACTED] did not return a call seeking comment.

[REDACTED] was interviewed by police in October 2005, and police say she admitted she brought six girls, ages 14 to 16, to Epstein's house to massage him. [REDACTED] was paid $200 each time she brought a girl over, according to her statement to police.

Police say [REDACTED] told them she wished to assist in their investigation in hopes of receiving a lesser charge. Police say that as [REDACTED] was being driven home from questioning, she remarked, "I'm like a Heidi Fliess."

Another woman involved in the scandal was Epstein's girlfriend [REDACTED] standing to the left in the above picture. Though the documents do not mention that any charges were being sought against [REDACTED] one girl, who began massaging Epstein when she was 16-years-old, told police that she was paid by Epstein to have sex with [REDACTED] as he watched. The girl also told police that "Epstein bragged he brought her [REDACTED] into the United States to be his Yugoslavian sex slave," according to the documents.

Attempts to contact [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] have not been successful.

The warrants for [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were submitted to the state attorney's office on May 4. A week later, no arrests had taken place. One police detective noted in the documents that he asked the assistant state attorney to take action.

"I asked that she either issue the warrants or direct file, as so much time has elapsed since the original request to the Grand Jury," he noted. "I explained that the Palm Beach Police Department had concluded the case in December of 2005 and has been waiting for the case to go forward."

About six weeks later, after the state attorney's office had conducted their own additional investigation into the matter, State Attorney Barry Krischer decided to send the case to the grand jury.

Earlier this week the grand jury indicted Epstein for solicitation of a prostitute. No charges were brought against [REDACTED] or [REDACTED]. The case is now closed as far as the state attorney's office is concerned. The police, meanwhile, have turned the matter over to the FBI.

Click here to read ABC News' full coverage on the Millionaire Sex Scandal.

July 28, 2006 in Millionaire Sex Scandal | Permalink | User Comments \(7\)

Page

State Legislation on Statute of Limitations for Certain Sex Offenses

Florida Stat. Ann. §775.15

Florida S 698 (2001)

No statute of limitations for sex battery if victim reported the offense within 72 hours.
Tolls the statute of limitation until a victim of a sexual offense reaches age 18 when the victim is a minor, or until they report it to authorities, whichever happens first.

Jeffrey Epstein, Pervert

Posted by Taki Theodoracopulos on October 03, 2007

He lives on the same street two blocks east of me, and his house is reported to be the largest in Manhattan, and I have bumped into him at times—literally—but he is as disgusting a human being as it is possible to be and still be out of jail. But not for long. Jeffrey Epstein, a big-time Noo Yawk investment manager and multi-billionaire has agreed to plead guilty to soliciting underage prostitutes at his Palm Beach mansion in a deal that will send him to prison for about 18 months.

This is the semi-official announcement. The reality is somewhat different. Epstein got his start when Lesley Wexner, the Limited department store tycoon, took him under his wing and showed him the ropes, so to speak. Needless to say, there were a hell of a lot of rumours flying around about the tutelage, but what is certain is that Epstein ended up becoming a multi-billionaire financial adviser and close friend to Bill Clinton and Ghislaine Maxwell. Epstein flew Clinton around Africa on his private jet, partied with Prince Andrew and became a business partner of Mort Zuckerman, the real estate shark who poses as a writer and columnist in the newspaper and magazine he owns.

Once, walking down my street towards the park, we came face to face and I refused to give way and bumped into him. He protested. "In the past, people like you would get off the sidewalk for people like me under the penalty of death..." I said I, evoking a Samurai custom. He was appalled but there was nothing he could do, as he had stepped out without his heavies. A Vanity Fair article about three years ago hinted at sexual shenanigans but was not specific. I knew better but libel laws prevent me from spilling the beans. Now, according to newspaper reports, Epstein has made a deal with the Feds, and will get a few months in a country club jail. What is known is that he had under age girls in his Florida mansion giving massages and oral sex. What I know is that these girls were not pros, but daughters of trailer park trash parents who were brought to him by the pimps he employed to do just that. Tabloids in the UK have hinted that Ghislaine Maxwell was the beard while the two went on fishing expeditions. I'm not so sure.

What is sure is that Andrew Windsor is a fool. Clinton never had and never will have any dignity, but Andrew does represent Britain in a way, and should behave accordingly.

Students of Ancient Greece might pick up the signals: very young boys resemble very young girls, but if you need more details all you have to do is pick up professor Dover's classic, Greek Homosexuality. What I find disgusting is that a billionaire or a celebrity can get away with murder in the Land of the Depraved, as this Proctor man just did in Los Angeles, and as Epstein has in plea bargaining a lousy 18 months. Here is Conrad Black facing years in the pokey for—in my opinion—enriching Telegraph stock owners as well as himself, and a Clinton-Maxwell-Zuckerman buddy can plea bargain massages with underage "girls," and do soft time in a country club.

And speaking of Spectator owners, I was extremely sad to read of Ian Gilmour's death. Lord Gilmour was the first man to write a letter to Conrad when Lord Black and I had our famous falling out over Marc Rich and Israel. In fact he also wrote a letter of support when I got into trouble and was sent to Pentonville 25 years ago. For drug possession, I might add. He never once remonstrated with me over my undying support for Lady Thatcher because, unlike so many hypocrites in politics, Ian Gilmour actually practiced what he preached. He was a high Tory and Libertarian and he let people be. Under his ownership and while he was editor the Speccie hit an all-time high of prestige and influence, and by the time I joined it in 1977, people were still talking about the good old Gilmour days.

My close friend was his second son, Oliver, who is a conductor, who like his siblings was very close to his parents. In fact, the Gilmour family was a strange one. For England, that is. They actually all loved each other and got along. The only other one I know that's as close are the Somersets. Ian Gilmour dancing with Margaret Thatcher back in 1981 is a picture that will always remain in my mind. There was no love lost between them but I never heard either say something scurrilous about the other. The worse thing I heard Ian say about Lady T was that she lacked a sense of humour. When I told Lady T that Ian Gilmour was against a fifth runway at Heathrow because it made living nearby hell, she looked at me, smiled, and said one word: "□ Good." □ Politics would be a far better profession to be involved with if people like Ian Gilmour and Maggie Thatcher were still active. Alas, things do not get better, although politicians keep promising that they will. Let's have more Gilmours and Thatchers and fewer Blairs and Camerons.

Age of consent

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

While the phrase age of consent typically does not appear in legal statutes,^[1] when used in relation to sexual activity, the age of consent is the minimum age at which a person is considered to be legally competent of consenting to sexual acts. This should not be confused with the age of majority, age of criminal responsibility, or the marriageable age.

The age of consent varies from jurisdiction to jurisdiction.

^[1] The median seems to range from 14 to 16 years, but laws stating ages ranging from 9 to 21 do exist. In many jurisdictions, age of consent is interpreted to mean mental or functional age. Some jurisdictions forbid sexual activity outside of legal marriage completely. The relevant age may also vary by the type of sexual act, the sex of the actors, or other restrictions such as abuse of a position of trust. Some jurisdictions may also make allowances for minors engaged in sexual acts with each other, rather than a single age. Charges resulting from a breach of these laws may range from a relatively low-level misdemeanor such as 'corruption of a minor,' to "statutory rape" (which is considered equivalent to rape, both in severity and sentencing).

There are many grey areas in this area of law, some regarding unspecific and untried legislation, others brought about by debates regarding changing societal attitudes, and others due to conflicts between federal and state laws. These factors all make age of consent an often confusing subject, and a topic of highly charged debates.^[1]

Sex and the law

Social Issues

Rights · Ethics

Pornography · Censorship

Miscegenation (interracial relations)

Same-sex marriage · Homophobia

Red-light district

Age of Consent · Essentialism

Objectification · Antisexualism

Violence · Slavery

Public morality · Norms

Specific Offenses

May vary according to Jurisdiction

Adultery · Incest

Deviant sexual intercourse ·

Sodomy and Buggery ·

Zoosexuality ·

Circumcision · Female Genital Cutting

Sexual harassment · Public indecency

Extreme pornography · Child pornography

Sexual assault · Rape · Statutory rape

Sexual Abuse (Child)

Prostitution and Pimping

Child grooming · Prostitution of children

Portals: Sexuality · Law · Criminal justice

- 10-9-04 $200
- 10-29-04 $200
- 8-30-04 $200
- 7-30-04 $200
- 6-7-04 $200
- 4-9-04 $200
- 6-16-03 $200
- 7-2-03 $200
- 1-24-05 $200
- 1-4-05 $200
- 10-12-04 $200
- 11-9-04 $200

lost house on the left

Everytime I went to Jeffery's Palm Beach house on ^{El Brill} ~~Elway~~ street. He never answered the door around back that I went through. I went through his front door once where [redacted] answered the door. In the back there was another building that was probably for his house keeper's. I never went in there. Some cars that I saw at Jeffery's house when I went were always black mercedeses, suburbans, and SUV cadillacs. The inside of when you pull in the driveway the garage is on your right.

Jeffery's house when you go through the back door you walk into the kitchen. In the kitchen ~~where~~ was a stair way, a little fridge with Dasain/Fuji little water bottles, a big fridge a bar in the middle with white stools, a desk, stove. I meet his cook once I think his name was Kevin. If you walk out of the kitchen there's a open storage kindel room. then you walk into the living room where you can see the water and his pool. the [redacted] desk where [redacted] his assist # [redacted] at the time maybe it still is her number.

RHM Investigations - Robert Myers

[redacted] Detective
Palm Beach Police Department
Office [redacted]

the desk. Then you walk into where the front door is with a swirl type stair case. There was a naked lady statue and up the stair case are pictures. When you get up the stairs there's another statue. I think his room was to the right and to the left was some other bedrooms. The ~~walls~~ ^{walls} were all pink. In Jeffery's room is how you get to his bathroom where I did his massage's. I do remember his bed sheets were all white. Jeffery's massage table was in the closet in the bathroom. The closet lights turned on when you walked in the closet by themselves. In the closets were pictures of a pregnant girl a some family with ~~his~~ ^{him} in the picture. I'm guessing it was family. I would put the massage table in the middle of the room with the sink on one side and a pink and green couch on the other side. Jeffery used dark blue towels that were on shelves right by the door. There was a dresser that had lotions and toys in the ~~drawers~~ ^{light wood} drawers. In Jeffery's bathroom was a toilet with a door seperated, a steamer sonna, a shower with a rain drop shower head . Also by the phone ~~that~~ ^{there} was in his bathroom and in his room there was an orange phone book. The white shutters that were in his bathroom were automatic. I left out of them one time it had a couple laying out chairs a white swirl staircase that lead to his back yard where there was a statue and I lefted out of ~~the~~ ^a white little fence where I would also come in. In the front of his house was automatic white fenced and me in hundred dollar bills would give Jeffery massages he would ask me to talk dirty to him. Jeffery would grab me and spank me until I would tell him to stop because I didn't like it. Jeffery would use this grey and white toy to try and get me off when he was jacking off. Jeffery loved when I would pinch his nipples.

Jeffery would tell me that I had the perfect body to model and he would try and get me a modeling job and at the time I was in a modeling camp. Modeling was my dream. Jeffery and I would talk about his vacations to Paris and New York where he told me in New York he had an office. Jeffery wanted to ~~take~~^{take} me to New York but he said he couldn't because I was not 18. Jeffery wore a dark blue robe just like his towels. The lotions I would use were from bath and body works and costed $12 dollars a bottle. The bottles were a shiny grey. Jeffery's phone's were a cream color like an office phone with a lot of buttons on them.

I think another assist of Jeffery's that I met was [REDACTED] I would go to Jeffery's most of the time at 11^{am}~~pm~~ for an hour. One time I went to Jeffery's at 7pm. The kitchen had white tile, the living room was wooden flooring, the stairs and upstairs was carpet I think it was an off white tan kind of color.

May 10, 2009

Jeffery had his depo
May 7th 2009. I was pretty good. he walked in introduced himself to my lawyers then said
"You know who I am" damn right.
He didn't really answer questions beside his age, where he went to college, and high. Bitch didn't even graduate college. I'm so glad I went! I just stared at him almost the whole time. He tried to be an asshole, but it didn't work. April 24 I was baker acted again. Miss communication Twitter thought I said I took half a bottle of beer. No just half. I don't really care what people think no one will ever know how I feel or my emotions. My mom came with me to [REDACTED] so she knows of has a better understanding of what

[REDACTED] Jeffery can act like a hard ass but he knows what he did was wrong. Not just in my family. My father, mother, and sister who are my world. I don't want his money I would rather him spend the rest of his life in prison. I love everyone that is by my side right now. He knows what he did

EFFORT

Intelligence is the effort to do the best you can at your particular job. J.C. PENNEY

WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
		1 NO School 5:30-10	2 The X 5-10
6	7 11:45-2:30	8 got paid 5:30-10	9 S.A.T Jeffery chilled at [redacted]
13	14	15 chilled at a dumb keg	16 Homecoming party [redacted]
20	21	22 4-9 got 5-10 paid Chilled at [redacted]	23 4-10 4-10 [redacted]
27 5-9 [redacted]	[redacted]	homecoming game	homecoming dance
start 2:00 [redacted]	11:30-3 [redacted]	29 job interview Jeffery comes back 5- [redacted]	30 moon fest [redacted] 3-day party

DEPENDABILITY

Those whom we support hold us up in life.

MARIE VON EBNER-ESCHENBACH

October

THURSDAY

28th

- 1- nothing
- 3- ch 5 + 6 reviews

AFTER SCHOOL

11:30 - 3

FRIDAY

29th

- 2- Quiz, review
- 1- get papers signed for job
check stub
- 4- bring macbeth notebook
shakespeare's scientist, macbeth summary packet, macbeth + ghost

Read macbeth Act 1 due Tues

AFTER SCHOOL

records job interview 5-11

SATURDAY

30

Jeffery's

WEEKLY GOALS AND PRIORITIES

TO YOUR HEALTH!

Build a healthy body: drink water, get enough sleep, bike, take walks, stretch, eat good food, relax.

PERSONAL DIRECTORY

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8 9 10 11 12
13
14
15
16
17
18 19 20 21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34 35
36
37
38
39 40
41 42
43
44
45
46
47
48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79 80
81
82 83
84
85
86
87
88 89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100

[REDACTED]

AT&T Wireless

563 North State Road
 Bldg #3
 Royal Palm Beach, FL 33411

CASH Sale

LG G4020 SILVER 139.99
 797553009009 Part# 797553009009
 ESN/SN 010421000178364
 Subtotal 139.99
 Sales Tax 6.0000% 8.40
 Sales Excise Tax 3.0000% 0.00
Total 148.39
 CASH 200.09
 Change Due 51.70
 Associate Anson PierreLouis
 F2 Existing Customer Upgrade

05511008002028408230407104A

98/23/04
 05511008-002-0264

KEEP THIS RECEIPT FOR RETURN/EXCHANGE WARRANTIES. Information regarding manufacturer warranties is contained in your original equipment packaging. WE ARE NOT THE MANUFACTURE OF THIS EQUIPMENT AND WE MAKE NO EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES WITH RESPECT TO IT. WE DISCLAIM ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR USE.

OTHER TERMS & CONDITIONS: Please refer to your AT&T General Terms and Conditions, and Rate Sheet for complete information about your rights and responsibilities regarding your wireless service. Please let us know if you need an additional copy of these materials.

RECURRING ELECTRONIC FUNDS TRANSFER (REF) PAYMENT OPTION

Recurring Electronic Fund Transfer (REF) is a free service for AT&T Wireless customers that automatically deducts the amount of the monthly bill from the customer's checking or savings account. Please visit www.ATTWS.com or contact CUSTOMER CARE at 1-800-388-7510 to receive an application to sign up for this service.

I'm ann. I'm here to serve you with our "7 Service Basics"

365 10 1596 01761 008
 365 10 1597 01761 008

RFN# [REDACTED]

WLG C/BTR.75	A	.49
WLG LOT .75Z	A	.49
WLG LOT .75Z	A	.02
1 @ 1/ .49 - 3/ 1.00
B/B LP SNCKR	1A	1.59
B/BLL LPSMKR	1A	1.59
MAYB XXL MSC	1A	7.49
B/BELL LPGLS	1A	1.79
CNR BRSH BCK	A	1.59
SUBTOTAL		15.05

A=6% SALES TAX .90
 TOTAL 15.95

CASH 100.95
 CHANGE 85.00

RFN# 0176-1081-5977-0410-0920

6770 FOREST HILL BLV WEST PALM BEACH,
 STORE (561)964-5566

THANK YOU
 FOR FASTER SERVICE, CALL IN YOUR PRESCRIPTION ORDER OR PLACE IT ON WWW.WALGREENS.COM 24 HOURS IN ADVANCE

OCTOBER 9, 2004 2:18 PM

Continue: May 10, 2009

this depo I was so nervous he acted liked like nothing, which I expected. He just doesn't want to forgive himself for anything.
Seeing him was kinda of a closure for me. He money is his ego and that's about it.
I'll take you to trial and get nothing I don't care. I know in my heart that Jeffrey ~~Esposito~~ Epstein is a piece of shit. He knows my face, and that's all I wanted. If I have a depo
I hope he comes & will get EVERYTHING out. He couldn't do that why? Because he was wrong.
That orange phone book, auto. Shater in his bathroom when you walk in the closet the light auto. comes on. Try and act like I've never been there. I know a lot about that mansion. Pay lawyers all you want we both know the truth Play your games Mr. Epstein I have evidence and proof. I'll play "Saw" like you want You can't run from a victim!

● A day that changed my life ... for now

One sunny day I was going to the beach with a whole bunch of friends. I got a call from _____ to see if I wanted to make $200. Of course, what are we going to have to do. Well I'll give you a xank and we'll smoke on the way. You just have to give this ~~blouse~~ man a massage. (In Palm Beach). Okay let's go before the beach. That's what we did. We left the manison around noon with $200 each and went to the beach.

April 27, 2009

What a wonderful weekend I thought I was going to have. It was my friend's b-day on Sat so I was going clubbing and peanut Island on Sun. Well 9am April 24 at work [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] calls me about an hour later.

Friday after work I go and watch a movie at [REDACTED] with my mom, [REDACTED] and the girls. The secret life of bees is what we watched. I had a couple glasses of wine and took half a bar. Call [REDACTED] when I leave and she's at Chili's with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] had a round of beers. Went outside and called [REDACTED] (FBI)

Told [REDACTED] everything about the day [REDACTED] took half a bar, and was drinking. She thought I said half a bottle of xanax. So she calls [REDACTED] (FBI) and they are scared and asked where I was. Told them Chili's on 441 by the Wellington mall. I'm still on the phone with [REDACTED] and 5 police cars and an ambulance show up. So I'm getting biker acted again.

April 16-17 was a year! At least this time they released me to my mom at 5am 04-25-09 Today Monday the 27th I went with my mom to [REDACTED]. I think it was very helpful & so maybe my mom can have a better understanding of why I act the way I do sometimes. A lot of the time I would rather be alone! which isn't good. I need to be social. So I go out shop, beach, and go to bars. I like to take Xanax because I'm chill but drinking on them I'm dangerous! I'm starting school in June and will quit smoking Cigs. may 29! I'm done being unhealthy because of a man. I'm tired so goodnight

NO MORE It's my life

my family

[REDACTED] is a great lady

[REDACTED] did what was in my best interest

p.s Jeffrey's deposition is may 8th 10am
Oh freakin joy ll not

May 14, 2009

So I found out that Jeffrey did register as a sex offender 7-2-08. Also I got the whole depo from Jeffrey that took place 5-7-09. Then tonight I'm out and find out that they Sapuena (however you spell it) Audi June 1st when I'm suppose to take my depo video taped at that. It's b.s! Just because he has money shouldn't mean anything. Jeffrey Edward Epstein is a piece of shit & and there is a place in HELL for him. I've tried to give it all to God and he (Jeffrey) just brings everything back. I know so much about his house it's not funny. His shelves are automatic in his bathroom, he has an orange phone book with whom every in it. I can describe that bathroom like the back of my hand. Also when you walk in the closet the lights turn on automatic. Sorry I've been there and I can describe so, so, so much. Take this shit to TRIAL! I'm not ready but let's get this over with. Jeffrey your a pussy! Money can't get you to heaven, feel rest your soul your going to HELL!

May 19, 2009

I found out I'm getting laid off the 29th of May which is so unfair but life is. I can't believe two criminal has a job plus bill of dollars.
It wreck's me to know that this guy can do this. It's unfair. I can't even express how I feel. He is a son of a bitch under my shoes that I see and get pissed off about. He will never admit to me ~~being~~ at his palm beach Billo man. In June I know ~~that~~ man for a person who has never been there. I try we tea's play games. Let's go

Automatic shatters in a b/r cut. Light when you walk in the closet orange probe back with whoever.

I'll describe your bathroom,
I've no other!
Games! Games! Games!
Your money is ~~still~~!

Jim Strongy!
May 27, 2009

He will not mess up my life anymore

That's the note
through the note!

Omg it's wed and tom I will be at gators 250 beers to start my holiday week I'm about to be 22 I wish I could stay 16 and everything I'm going through wouldn't be! life makes a person stronger. so they say. "Hopefully. I saw Jeffrey and I'm not as bad. It'd just give me some closure... he knew who I was. so damn sure. I just want to go to travel and put him on blast. I know so much about his mansion and everything. Try me. Jeffrey you're not getting away with what you did not only to me but served other girls.
we were not women at the time and you knew it. You took advantage of us because you had money. I came from a middle class family. But not to ask for money because I had $200 was a teens dream! I could shop, get gas, and do what ever I wanted.
Do I regret it? At this time YES!
It has put me through so much stress and I'm not willing to be with anyone. I hated life, talking I didn't eat for a long time! But I'm over it Jeffrey had Epstein is a piece of shit!

Jeffrey

HATE

H

SEX

SEX

SEX
JEFFREY

First Name: JEFFREY

Middle Name: E

Last Name: EPSTEIN

family watchdog™

Awareness is your best defense.

Home

358 El Brillo Way
Palm Beach, FL 33480-4730

Alias

JEFFREY EPSTEIN

Convictions

Procuring a person under age of 18 for prostitution; F.S. 796.03 (PRINCIPAL)

Conviction Date: 6/30/2008 Age at conviction: 55

Description

Gender: Male Race: White

Hair: Grey Eye: Blue

Height: 6'00, Weight: 180 lbs

DOB: [REDACTED] Age: 56

STX

Dear [REDACTED]

5-8-09

I want to thank you for all your support and advise. The depo wasn't as bad as I thought. Jeffrey introduced himself to everyone (attorneys) looked at me and said "you know who I am". Which I was pleased he knew I who I was. He didn't answer many questions which everyone knew that would happen. Every time there was a question about me like if he knew who I was, about me becoming a model, and sex toys. He would just have this dumb smile on his face. Then at a point all the attorney's walked out and he said "I don't think you want to leave your client by herself". I just stared at him the whole time. I got that like closure I wanted! I didn't cry until I was almost home it was just a rush of emotions. I cried and didn't bottle it in! I'm not bottle these emotions anymore. I can't! You "I be proud to know I ate all weekend and [REDACTED]". He can't blame the victims anymore! Thank you for everything your like a best friend to me that I can run to whenever! ♡ always, [REDACTED]

Women want sex plea deal unsealed

Their attorneys will ask a judge to open Jeffrey Epstein's records.

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — When wealthy money manager Jeffrey Epstein of Palm Beach pleaded guilty last year to procuring teens for prostitution, his case detoured around local and state rules regarding the sealing of court documents.

At a plea conference on the state charges, a judge, a defense lawyer and a prosecutor huddled at the bench and decided that a deal Epstein had struck with federal prosecutors to avoid charges should be sealed, according to a transcript of the hearing.

And so it was.

But Florida rules of judicial administration, as well as rules of the Palm Beach County court system, require public notification that a court document has been or will be sealed, meaning kept from public view. The rules also require a judge to find a significant reason to seal,

Epstein

See EPSTEIN, 4A ►

See past coverage of Jeffrey Epstein's sex scandals. PalmBeachPost.com/epstein

Public has right to know details of deal, Post attorney will claim

► EPSTEIN from 1A

such as protecting a trade secret or a compelling government interest.

Yet no notification or reason occurred in Epstein's case, according to court records.

Epstein's own attorneys, in federal filings, have referred to his confidential deferred prosecution agreement with the U.S. attorney's office, struck in September 2007, as "unprecedented" and "highly unusual." And it was "a significant inducement" for Epstein to accept the state's deal, observed the state judge who accepted his plea, County Judge Deborah Dale Pucillo.

Epstein now faces at least a dozen civil lawsuits in federal and state courts filed by young women who said they had sex with him and now are seeking damages.

Attorneys for some of those women want his agreement with federal prosecutors unsealed and will ask Circuit Judge Jeffrey Colbath to do so today.

"It is against public policy for these documents to be have been sealed and hidden from public scrutiny. As a member of the public, E.W. has a right to have these documents unsealed," wrote former Circuit Judge Bill Berger, now in private practice and representing one of the women.

The Palm Beach Post also will ask Colbath to unseal the agreement. Post attorney Deanna Shullman will argue that the public has a right to know the specifics of Epstein's deal.

According to various media accounts, Epstein moved in circles that included President Clinton, Donald Trump and Prince Andrew. "International Moneyman of Mystery," declared a 2002 New York magazine profile of Epstein.

Epstein, 56, is in the Palm Beach County Stockade, serving an 18-month sentence after pleading guilty nearly a year ago to felony solicitation of prostitution and procuring teenagers for prostitution.

He is allowed out from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., escorted by a deputy, said Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office spokeswoman Teri Barbera.

During a Palm Beach Police Department investigation, five victims and 17 witnesses gave statements. They told of young women brought by his assistants to Epstein's mansion on El Brillo Way for massages and sexual activity, and then being paid afterward.

At Epstein's plea conference last year, his attorney, Jack Goldberger, and then-Assistant State Attorney Lanna Belohlavek approached Pucillo in a sidebar conference. Pucillo, who had left the bench nine years earlier, was filling in temporarily as a senior judge.

According to a transcript, Goldberger told Pucillo that Epstein had entered a confidential agreement with the U.S. attorney's office in which federal prosecutors brokered not pursuing charges against him if he pleaded guilty in state court. Pucillo then said she wanted a sealed copy of the agreement filed in his case, and Goldberger concurred that he wanted it sealed. Belohlavek later signed off on it.

The Florida Supreme Court has expressed "serious concern" and launched an all-out inquiry into sealing procedures across the state following media reports in 2006 of entire cases being sealed and disappearing from court records.

"The public's constitutional right of access to court records must remain inviolate, and this court is fully committed to safeguarding this right," justices wrote in their final report.

Epstein's office on Tuesday referred any questions to Goldberger, who declined to comment. Pucillo also has declined to comment.

©susan_spencer_wendel@pbpost.com

Pakistan

Airlines replace pilots after Air France crash

Seven more Air France pilots have been replaced by the airline on Tuesday to replace speed ratings after the suspected cause of the crash was found to be a problem with the plane's engine.

Seven more pilots were replaced from the airline's fleet on Tuesday, bringing the number of pilots to 11. Another 187 pilots were to be replaced in the next year, according to the airline.

Federal safety board is investigating the crash. The board is expected to release a report on the crash in the next few weeks.

The crash was the deadliest in the airline's history. The plane was carrying 152 people, including 128 passengers and 24 crew members.

The crash was caused by a problem with the engine. The engine was found to be defective and was replaced.

Seven more Air France pilots have been replaced by the airline on Tuesday to replace speed ratings after the suspected cause of the crash was found to be a problem with the plane's engine.

The airline is now replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

The airline is also replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

The airline is also replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

The airline is also replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

The airline is also replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

ills 11

of 11

The airline is also replacing pilots who were flying the plane on the day of the crash.

Judge delays ruling on request to unseal plea deal in sex case

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — A circuit judge on Wednesday did not unseal the deal that money manager Jeffrey Epstein of Palm Beach struck with federal prosecutors to avoid charges, opting instead to give Epstein's lawyers a chance to demonstrate why it should remain hidden from public view.

Circuit Judge Jeff Epstein Colbath acknowledged at a hearing that Epstein's deal was not sealed in state court in accordance with the rules.

"I don't see where any of the procedures were ever followed," he said.

Colbath has given Epstein's defense attorney, Jack Goldberger, an opportunity to argue that the document was properly sealed and asked lawyers to submit briefs to him by Friday. Colbath also set a full hearing for June 25.

Attorneys for young women now suing Epstein are asking Colbath to unseal the deal that Epstein brokered with federal prosecutors. A lawyer for The Palm Beach Post also has joined in the request.

"It's a secret agreement. A secret, sweetheart agreement," said former Circuit Judge Bill Berger, who now represents some of the women.

"Everybody was in on this deal except the victims and the public," Berger said. "The public should be outraged it has gone as far as it has."

A second attorney representing the women, Brad Edwards, has seen the sealed document. A federal judge allowed him and his clients to view it, but not to discuss its contents.

Edwards said the women were "outraged" at what had been negotiated without their knowledge. A reporter asked Edwards if he thought Epstein received special treatment by federal prosecutors.

"Are you kidding? It's transparent. Certainly no one else gets treated like that," Edwards said.

Epstein, 56, a reported money manager of billionaires, is currently serving an 18-month sentence in the Palm Beach County Stockade after pleading guilty nearly a year ago in state court to felony solicitation of prostitution and procuring teenagers for prostitution.

The saga began years ago when the Palm Beach Police Department began investigating whether young women were being brought to Epstein's mansion on El Brillo Way to massage him and have sex with him in exchange for money.

Epstein's attorneys, in federal filings, have referred to sealed documents as a deferred prosecution agreement with federal prosecutors and have called it "unprecedented" and "highly unusual."

Goldberger said his client has not received any special treatment.

© susan_spencer_wendel@pbpost.com

Circuit Judge Jeff Epstein

charities

...of America's came up with money. ... such as the ... Family ... the ... I. ... contributed ...

The ... was ... that ... said they ...

students

... his ... the ... the ... the ...

Tennis tour idea losing in Delray

A ...

... was ... to ... in ...

... the ... and ... the ... last week ... $375,000 ...

... the ... the ... very hard ...

... and ... the ... and ...

... the contract ... the city's budget ...

... who ... the ... of the ...

... is ... the ... the ...

... is ... the ... the ...

... the ... the ... the ...

The 2008 Florida Statutes

Title XLVI
CRIMES

Chapter 794
SEXUAL BATTERY

View Entire Chapter

794.05 Unlawful sexual activity with certain minors.--

(1) A person 24 years of age or older who engages in sexual activity with a person 16 or 17 years of age commits a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. As used in this section, "sexual activity" means oral, anal, or vaginal penetration by, or union with, the sexual organ of another; however, sexual activity does not include an act done for a bona fide medical purpose.

(2) The provisions of this section do not apply to a person 16 or 17 years of age who has had the disabilities of nonage removed under chapter 743.

(3) The victim's prior sexual conduct is not a relevant issue in a prosecution under this section.

(4) If an offense under this section directly results in the victim giving birth to a child, paternity of that child shall be established as described in chapter 742. If it is determined that the offender is the father of the child, the offender must pay child support pursuant to the child support guidelines described in chapter 61.

History.--RS 2598; s. 1, ch. 4965, 1901; GS 3521; s. 1, ch. 6974, 1915; s. 1, ch. 7732, 1918; RGS 5409; s. 1, ch. 8596, 1921; CGL 7552; s. 1, ch. 61-109; s. 759, ch. 71-136; s. 1, ch. 96-409.

Judge asked to name receiver to keep eye on Epstein's assets

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — An attorney representing one of the passel of young women now suing billionaire Jeffrey Epstein is asking a federal judge to appoint a receiver to take over Epstein's property to prevent him from hiding or transferring assets abroad.

Bradley Edwards also has asked that the receiver order Epstein to post a $15 million bond to ensure money is available if the women prevail in their lawsuits seeking damages because of the sexual contact they say Epstein had with them as minors.

In a request entered into the court record Friday, Edwards wrote that Epstein, a man of "phenomenal wealth," now faces more than two dozen lawsuits. The woman Edwards represents is seeking more than $50 million in damages.

"Accordingly, Epstein has currently pending against him lawsuits seeking more than $1 billion in damages. He thus faces financial ruin," Edwards wrote to U.S. District Judge Kenneth Marra.

Edwards cited no direct evidence that Epstein is transferring assets abroad. He argued that because Epstein is a sophisticated money manager and is allowed out of the Palm Beach County Stockade each day to work at his office, he has the skill, the means and motive to be transferring assets abroad.

Epstein is serving an 18-month sentence after pleading guilty nearly a year ago to state charges of felony solicitation of prostitution and procuring teenagers for prostitution. Epstein is allowed out of the stockade, though, each day from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., a spokeswoman for the sheriff's office said recently.

The saga began years ago when Palm Beach police investigated reports that young women were being brought to Epstein's manse on El Brillo Way to massage him and have sex with him in exchange

Epstein
Faces more than two dozen suits.

for money.

Attorneys representing the women have questioned Epstein about his sexual activities with their clients as well as his finances. Epstein has responded by invoking his right to remain silent and not incriminate himself.

"The silence in the face of these questions speaks far louder than words," Edwards wrote. "As Justice (Louis) Brandeis recognized long ago 'Silence is often evidence of the most persuasive character.' This is plainly one of those situations."

An attorney who represented Epstein during the questioning, Robert D. Critton Jr. of West Palm Beach, did not respond to an e-mail seeking comment.

On Thursday, Circuit Judge Jeffrey Colbath will consider whether to unseal a deferred-prosecution agreement Epstein entered with federal prosecutors. Attorneys have said that they seek to unseal that document in part to use it in striking at Epstein's right to remain silent.

©susan_spencer-wendel
@pbpost.com

Judge agrees to unseal Epstein's sex scandal deal

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — A circuit judge agreed Thursday to unseal a deal billionaire Jeffrey Epstein struck with federal prosecutors to avoid their filing of charges in the wake of his sex scandal with underage girls.

Circuit Judge Jeff Colbath said he would not release Epstein's agreement with federal prosecutors until Monday, allowing him time to redact the names of victims. Colbath ruled that the deal had not been sealed properly.

Epstein

Jack Goldberger, Epstein's attorney, immediately asked for a stay of Colbath's decision to unseal the agreement in order to appeal it. A hearing on that request is set for this morning.

See EPSTEIN, 5B ▶

Epstein scheduled for release in July

▶ EPSTEIN from 1B

Attorneys for women now suing Epstein, as well as attorneys for The Palm Beach Post, had asked Colbath to release the deal, arguing the public and the victims have a right to see it.

"There is nothing more fundamentally important than for the public and press to observe how the government is doing its job," Post attorney Deanna Shullman said. "There is great public interest in how everybody in this case is doing their job."

Goldberger argued that the confidential agreement Epstein struck with federal prosecutors should remain confidential. Included in it, Goldberger said, are references to federal grand jury proceedings, which are secret and protected by federal rules. A federal judge should decide the issue, he said.

Attorneys Spencer Kivin and Brad Edwards, who represent some of the women now suing Epstein, both said they were not surprised by Epstein's attorney moving to appeal.

"Any chance to stall in any way and keep the agreement out of public disclosure, they will take it," said Edwards outside court.

He will have served about 13 months of an 18-month sentence.

Epstein pleaded guilty nearly one year ago to solicitation of prostitution and procuring teenagers for prostitution and was sentenced to 18 months in prison.

A sheriff's office official confirmed Thursday that Epstein will be released from the Palm Beach County Stockade on July 22 — nearly 13 months into his sentence.

Sheriff's office spokesperson Eric Davis said Epstein has earned gain time for good behavior and for participating in a work-release program.

The saga began years ago after Palm Beach police began investigating reports that young women were being brought to his manse on El Brillo Way to massage him and have sex with him in exchange for money.

Displeased with the way the state attorney's office handled the case, Palm Beach police later forwarded information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

© susan_spencer_wendel
@pbbpost.com

Stanford pleads not guilty to fraud

University of California at Berkeley

Stanford University's Robert S. Johnson, 47, pleaded not guilty Tuesday to charges of fraud in a lawsuit filed by the university. Johnson, who was indicted in 1987, is accused of misappropriating $1.5 million in university funds for his private business. The charges were filed in the federal court in Berkeley. Johnson's attorney, Robert S. Johnson, said his client is innocent and that the charges are unfounded. Johnson was indicted in 1987 on charges of misappropriating $1.5 million in university funds for his private business. The charges were filed in the federal court in Berkeley. Johnson's attorney, Robert S. Johnson, said his client is innocent and that the charges are unfounded. Johnson was indicted in 1987 on charges of misappropriating $1.5 million in university funds for his private business. The charges were filed in the federal court in Berkeley. Johnson's attorney, Robert S. Johnson, said his client is innocent and that the charges are unfounded.

When you...
...to the...

HE SAYS HE HEARS THE BELLS

...the...
...the...

Judge to decide whether to unseal documents in Epstein deal

Click-2-List

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL

Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Thursday, June 25, 2009

WEST PALM BEACH — A Palm Beach Circuit Court judge will again consider today whether to unseal a deal that purported billionaire Jeffrey Epstein struck with federal prosecutors to avoid charges by them following his sex scandal with underage girls.

Attorneys for women now suing the money manager, as well as the Palm Beach Post, have asked Circuit Judge Jeff Colbath to unseal Epstein's federal deferred-prosecution agreement. The hearing is set for 1:30 p.m.

sentenced to 18 months for felony solicitation of prostitution following accusations by teen girls.

Past coverage

More local news

Latest breaking news, photos and all of today's Post stories.

On the beat, behind the agenda: Post reporters cover your area in City Pulse.

Share This Story

- Y Buzz
- del.icio.us
- digg
- Newsvine
- reddit
- iStockphoto
- Facebook
- Twitter
- Fark
- More

What are these?

"Are you kidding? It's transparent. Certainly no one else gets treated like that," Edwards has said.

Epstein is currently serving an 18-month sentence in the Palm Beach County Stockade after pleading guilty a year ago in state court to felony solicitation of prostitution and procuring teenagers for prostitution. Epstein is allowed out, though, each day from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., a spokeswoman for the sheriff's office has said.

The saga began years ago after Town of Palm Beach police began investigating reports that young women were being brought to his manse on El Brillo Way to massage him and have sex with him in exchange for money.

Displeased with the way the State Attorney's Office handled the case, Palm Beach police later forwarded information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Epstein's own attorneys, in federal filings, have referred to Epstein's deferred prosecution agreement with federal prosecutors as "unprecedented" and "highly unusual."

Goldberger has said he believes the law allows the record to continue to be sealed and is opposing it being opened. Epstein has not gotten any special treatment, according to Goldberger.

Recently in court, Colbath acknowledged that Epstein's deal with the feds had not been sealed in accordance with state and local court rules.

"I don't see where any of the procedures were ever followed to begin with," Colbath then said.

He has since given Epstein's attorney, Jack Goldberger, an opportunity to argue that the document was properly sealed and why it should remain so.

The deal promises a look at the behind-the-scenes justice struck for the New York money manager who according to Vanity Fair, hobnobbed with the likes of Prince Andrew and former President Bill Clinton.

"It's a secret agreement. A secret sweetheart agreement," former Circuit Judge Bill Berger who now represents some of the women has said. "Everybody was in on this deal except the victims and the public. The public should be outraged it has gone as far as it has."

A second attorney representing the women, Brad Edwards, has seen the sealed deal after a federal judge allowed him and his clients to view it, but not discuss its contents.

Edwards would only say that the women were "outraged" that it had been negotiated behind their backs. A reporter asked Edwards if he believed Epstein received special treatment by federal prosecutors.

Epstein's release upsets 'Jane Does,' their attorney says

By SONJA ISGER
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Jane Doe No. 5 did not watch television Wednesday morning, because watching multimillionaire Jeffrey Epstein smile and wave pleasantly as he walked out of the Palm Beach County Jail and slipped into a car that carried him back to his Palm Beach mansion was sure to make her angry.

Epstein

Yes, the 56-year-old is now a registered sex offender who has done his time — not quite 13 months of an 18-month sentence.

And yes, he still must serve a year of probation, checking in weekly with his probation officer.

But Jane Doe No. 5 and others, who have filed lawsuits against Epstein in the wake of his guilty plea and subsequent sentencing, argue that he was treated with a soft touch reserved for

See EPSTEIN, 6B ▶

No victims, Epstein's attorney insists

▶ EPSTEIN from 1B

someone with money and power.

At least a dozen lawsuits have been filed against the former money manager on behalf of young women who claim to have been his victims when they were teens.

"There was never any victims. There are women who have filed lawsuits against Mr. Epstein and we will challenge them," Epstein's attorney, Jack Goldberger, said.

Reading Goldberger's words online, the anonymous Ms. Doe fired back: "If we are not victims, what would you consider children sexually assaulted by an older man?"

Now 22, she says she was a sophomore in high school when Epstein sexually abused her. She was intimidated by the obvious money and power he wielded, she says.

Her anger was shared by Jane Doe Nos. 2 through 8, says Adam Horowitz, who represents each in separate lawsuits.

These lawsuits and others filed on behalf of several alleged victims describe Epstein's pursuit of erotic massages and sex from young girls.

Attorneys for these young women — some claim to have been as young as 12, according to Horowitz — say he targeted poor girls, whom he perceived to be unlikely to tell or whose credibility could be called into question. And the abuse is alleged to span years in some cases.

Horowitz said his clients lived in Loxahatchee and Royal Palm Beach and were often taken to the mansion on El Brillo Way by taxi.

Epstein pleaded guilty in June 2008 to two felony charges, procuring a minor for prostitution and soliciting prostitution. The deal he made to get an 18-month sentence is sealed, though that seal is now being challenged in court.

"When he was sentenced, they were outraged it was such a light sentence," Horowitz said.

Then they learned he wasn't spending all that time in jail.

'Some feel very unsafe that he's out on the street right now.'

ADAM HOROWITZ
Attorney filing lawsuits

According to jail records, Epstein was let out every weekday and some weekends since last October as part of a work-release program. He spent his time, according to jail records, at the Florida Science Foundation, a non-profit he created before he was sentenced.

Now the man's out.

"They are very disturbed. Some feel very unsafe that he's out on the street right now," Horowitz said.

Follow-up calls to Epstein's attorney were not returned.

For the next year, Epstein must check in weekly with a probation officer. He'll also have to donate a sample of his DNA for the state's database.

As for Epstein's return home, Palm Beach relies on state law to determine where registered sex offenders may not live — within 1,000 feet of a school, park or child care center. His mansion sits clear of all those zones.

Staff researcher Niels Heimeriks contributed to this story.

© sonja_isger@pbpost.com

Get caught up

Read past coverage about the Jeffrey Epstein case.

PalmBeachPost.com/epstein

Multimillionaire Palm Beach sex offender's secret plea deal to be unsealed Friday

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL

Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Thursday, September 17, 2009

WEST PALM BEACH — Billionaire financier and sex offender Jeffrey Epstein's secret deal struck with federal prosecutors is due to be unsealed and released to the public tomorrow.

Following requests by the Palm Beach Post and attorneys for some of his alleged victims, the document - improperly sealed in state court - is expected to be unsealed by Circuit Judge Jeffery Colbath. Epstein's attorney has unsuccessfully fought its release in court.

Jeffrey Epstein

Billionaire financier Jeffrey Epstein has been sentenced to 18 months for felony solicitation of prostitution following accusations by teen girls.

Past coverage

• Page2Live.com coverage

Post your comments on this story below

The back room deal with federal prosecutors is potentially all the more interesting in light of the legal powerhouses who have worked for Epstein, including Harvard professor Alan Dershowitz and Kenneth Starr of Bill Clinton impeachment fame.

Epstein ended up avoiding federal charges, and pleaded guilty in state court to felony solicitation of prostitution and procuring a person under the age of 18 for prostitution. In July 2008, he was sentenced to 18 months in jail, and later allowed out up to six days a week on work release.

Epstein left the jail in late July 2009 after serving not quite 13 months of the sentence, having earned gain time for good behavior.

Palm Beach Police began an 11-month investigation of the "international moneymen of mystery," as the New York magazine dubbed him, after they received a complaint from a relative of a 14-year-old girl who had given Epstein a naked massage at his home, an $8.5 million mansion on the Intracoastal Waterway.

Police sought and found in poor neighborhoods a variety of tall, thin, model-like young women, who told stories of being recruited, then going to

Epstein's home, massaging him and stimulating him - and walking away with between $200 and $1,000.

The investigation triggered tensions between police and prosecutors, with then-Chief Michael Reiter saying in a May 2006 letter to then-State Attorney Barry Krischer that the chief prosecutor should disqualify himself.

"I continue to find your office's treatment of these cases highly unusual," Reiter wrote. He then asked for and got the federal investigation that ended in the sealed deal.

"The Jeffrey Epstein matter was an experience of what a many-million-dollar defense can accomplish," Reiter told the Palm Beach Daily News upon his retirement.

Epstein now faces at least 20 civil lawsuits filed by young woman represented by prominent attorneys. The civil litigation intensified recently with a lawyer for the one of the women, Spencer Kuvin, made a request to inspect and photograph Epstein's genitalia. One of the young women - who told police she was Epstein's "number one girl" - described his genitalia as being deformed and "egg-shaped", according to a police record.

Attorneys, including former Circuit Judge William Berger, sought the release of the sealed deal as part of their legal strategy in those civil suits.

Epstein has repeatedly invoked his right to remain silent and not incriminate himself when being deposed in the civil lawsuits. The attorneys sought to unseal the deal to clarify whether Epstein faces the possibility of further prosecution, which may or may not impact his right to remain silent.

THE LOWDOWN . . .

... Just don't ask millionaire Palm Beach sex offender Jeffrey Epstein. Local attorney, Spencer Kuvvin did during a deposition Sept. 2, and Epstein walked out — 100 seconds after it started. And it was all caught on a video posted on Page Two's online sister, page2line.com. Epstein did answer the first question: "What is your name?" But he balked at the second: "Is it true that ... you have an egg-shaped penis?" Epstein took off his microphone and left. And it cost the Wall Street prodigy Epstein. He was fined $800 by the West Palm Beach court currently hearing civil lawsuits filed by women whom Epstein paid for sex when they were underage. "It absolutely was an important question," said Kuvvin. "If he claims to have never met them, then we should know whether the victim is telling the truth." The deposition has been reset for Oct. 8, and Epstein should expect the same question ... Burt Reynolds was back in rehab Thursday. It was just for a daylong refresher at the Hanley Center in WPB. Reynolds, 73, admitted himself at Hanley for a 30-day program in mid-August and was released last week. He admitted to battling an addiction to pain pills ...

Epstein

Epstein's secret pact with feds reveals 'highly unusual' terms

Epstein
Faces many civil lawsuits filed by some of the 30 to 40 women identified as victims in the federal investigation.

By SUSAN SPENCER-WENDEL
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — A secret non-prosecution agreement multimillionaire financier Jeffrey Epstein struck with federal prosecutors is being called "highly unusual" by former federal prosecutors and downright outrageous by attorneys now representing young women who serviced him.

The deal reveals that the FBI and the U.S. Attorney's Office investigated him for several federal crimes, including engaging minors in commercial sex. The crimes are punishable by anywhere from 10 years to life in prison.

But federal prosecutors backed down and agreed to recall grand jury subpoenas if Epstein pleaded guilty to prostitution-related felonies in state court, which he ultimately did. He received an 18-month jail sentence, of which he served 13 months.

See EPSTEIN, 12A ►

Tension between prosecutors, police

▶ EPSTEIN from 1A

The U.S. Attorney's Office also agreed not to charge any of Epstein's possible co-conspirators:

Lesley Groff and

The deal was negotiated in part by heavyweight New York criminal defense attorney Gerald Lefcourt.

Unsealed on Friday after attorneys for some of Epstein's victims and The Palm Beach Post sought its release, it offers the first public look at the deal Epstein's high-powered legal counsel brokered on his behalf.

Mark Johnson of Stuart, a former federal prosecutor, described the disparity in potential sentences as unusual, but even more so a provision on attorney payment.

The first draft of the agreement in September 2007 required that Epstein pay an attorney — tapped by the U.S. Attorney's Office and approved by Epstein — to represent some of the victims. That attorney is prominent Miami lawyer Bob Josefsberg.

But an addendum to the agreement signed the following month struck Epstein's duty to pay Josefsberg if he and the victims did not accept settlements — capped at $150,000 — and instead tigation were told ahead of time. Edwards said his clients received letters from the U.S. Attorney's Office months after the deal was signed, assuring them Epstein would be prosecuted.

Former Judge Bill Berger, representing victims, called the agreement a 'sweetheart deal.'

"Never consulting the victims is probably the most outrageous aspect of it," Edwards said. "It taught them that someone with money can buy his way out of anything. It's outrageous and embarrassing for United States Attorney's Office and the State Attorney's Office."

Epstein now faces many civil lawsuits filed by the women, who are represented by a variety of attorneys. In many, the allegations are the same: that Epstein had a predilection for teenage girls, identified poor, vulnerable ones and used other young women to lure them to his Palm Beach mansion. They walked away with between $200 and $1,000.

Former Circuit Judge Bill Berger, also representing victims, called the agreement a "sweetheart deal."

"Why was it so important for the government to make this deal?" Berger asked rhetorically. "We have not yet had an honest explanation by any public official as to why it was made ... and why the victims were sold down the river."

Former federal prosecutor Ryon McCabe described the agreement as "very unorthodox." Such agreements, he said, are usually reserved for corporations, not individuals.

"It's very, very rare. I've never seen or heard of the procedure that was set up here," said McCabe, who has no involvement in any Epstein litigation.

"He's essentially avoiding federal prosecution because he can afford to pay that many lawyers to help those victims review their cases. ... If a person has no money, he couldn't be able to strike a deal like this and avoid federal prosecution."

The backroom deal with federal prosecutors is all the more interesting in light of the legal powerhouses who have worked for Epstein, including Harvard professor Alan Dershowitz and Bill Clinton investigator Kenneth Starr. Lefcourt is a past president of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers.

Epstein's local defense attorney, Jack Goldberger, issued a statement Friday saying he had fought the release of the sealed agreement to protect the third parties named there. "Mr. Epstein has fully abided by all of its terms and conditions. He is looking forward to putting this difficult period in his life behind him. He is continuing his long-standing history of science philanthropy."

The investigation triggered tensions between police and prosecutors, with then-Palm Beach Chief Michael Reiter saying in a May 2006 letter to then-State Attorney Barry Krischer that the chief prosecutor should disqualify himself.

"I continue to find your office's treatment of these cases highly unusual," Reiter wrote. He then asked for and got the federal investigation that ended in the sealed deal.

"The Jeffrey Epstein matter was an experience of what a many-million-dollar defense can accomplish," Reiter told the Palm Beach Daily News upon his retirement.

© susan_spencer_wendel
@pbpost.com

Sleazy perp, sleazier deal

On the second page of the secret deal between federal prosecutors and Jeffrey Epstein, we read that the agreement will serve the interests of "the United States, the State of Florida, and the Defendant." Wrong on the first two, right on the third.

Until Friday, the public didn't know the terms of the deal that finalized

Epstein

the case of the Palm Beacher who arranged to have girls brought to his house for sex and massages. Only Epstein's platoon of lawyers, the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida and the Palm Beach County State Attorney's Office knew the details. And now we know why the perpetrators of this outrage didn't want the public to know.

The deal is an indictment of a system that did much more for a criminal than for his victims. Jeffrey Epstein — officially a registered sex offender but in plain terms a pervert — escaped what should have been serious prison time. Instead, the federal deal allowed him to plead guilty to light charges in state court. He spent just 13 months — nights only — in the Palm Beach County Jail. Meanwhile, the government tried to help Epstein buy off the young girls whom Epstein had exploited.

Several of those girls have filed civil suits against Epstein. (Their lawyers and lawyers for The Post sued to make the plea deal public.) In the agreement, the government proposes to identify all the alleged victims and steer them to a lawyer, whose expenses Epstein would pay. In return, however, the victims would withdraw all lawsuits from state court and agree to a settlement in federal court of no more than $150,000 each. Even then, of course, Epstein would not acknowledge any "liability."

Government acted like Epstein's go-betweens.

The agreement thus placed the Department of Justice in a role similar to those of the four women who procured girls for Epstein. If there's a precedent in this or any of the other 92 United States attorney's offices, we'd like to hear it. Not surprisingly, R. Alexander Acosta also agreed not to prosecute those women.

If the outcome is frustrating, so is the lack of accountability. Mr. Acosta's name is on the deal, but he's now the dean of Florida International University's law school. A call to his office for comment Monday was not returned. The name of Assistant U.S. Attorney [REDACTED] is on the deal. She still works as a federal prosecutor in West Palm Beach, but Alicia Valle, the office's special counsel, said in an e-mail, "We cannot comment on your questions." Didn't she really mean will not?

This case got into the federal system because former Palm Beach Police Chief Michael Rejter believed that Palm Beach County State Attorney Barry Krischer wasn't moving aggressively enough. Mr. Krischer retired last year. The assistant state attorney who oversaw the case is no longer with the office.

At this point, the public must hope that the civil suits suck as much money from Epstein as possible. Money seems to be all that he understands. Also, Jeffrey Sloman is serving as the acting U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Florida until President Obama nominates a permanent replacement for confirmation by the Senate. It would be good to know that whoever follows Mr. Acosta is on record that the Jeffrey Epstein deal did not serve the interests of the United States.

TALK BACK!

How much of a break did the system give Jeffrey Epstein?

<http://blogs.PalmBeachPost.com/opinionzone>

[Faint, illegible text covering the majority of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.]

.....

