

From: Michael Wolff [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, October 26, 2016 8:30:46 PM
Subject: A thought...
To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

The more I think about it, the more I like this documentary idea. You'd have to orchestrate the people willing to be involved, but if you created enough large events, people don't have to take such individual responsibility for being there. And events like this with a wide variety of people give a quality of excitement and urgency to what you do and who you are, relegating the charges to a significantly smaller place in your life.