

Sent: Monday, October 31, 2011 4:07:11 PM
From: drsra [REDACTED]
To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

I have another problem and I would like your opinion. Recall that Mike arranged for a $200,000.00 line of credit on my practice and then "borrowed" $168,000.00. He told me to pay the interest with draws but as we know, he never intended to pay me back. Now it is max-ed out at $200,000.00 and they are calling me about it (in the past I took out funds, deposited them in another account at the bank, and they took the interest payments from there. I recently took everything out and put in an account I use to pay Trent). How should I handle this? Can I bargain with Regions Bank to pay it off cheaper than the full amount? Regions has filed a suit against Mike so I think they know he is a crook. I don't want to pay money I don't have to, but if you think it is best that I just pay it off, I will. Can I talk with them about a pay-off sum? If so, how do I go about it? Use Trent? Someone else? Myself? Your ideas will be welcomed.

Hope everything is OK with you.

Happy Halloween