he finally got back to me (or rather his wife did). They would prefer to stay over the sunday night as she thinks flying back that night will be too tiring for him, and I am not surprised, given his age.. She will give me their schedule in santa fe when she has it so we know where and when to pick them up.

I am planning on coming down either friday night or sat morning.. which do you prefer? Nancy will fly in from Portland, and will probably come in Sat morning.
