it is only 60 miles from alb. to santa fe, and it seems much easier to have nancy fly in to alb. so I suppose I could fly there and get in around the same time and rent a car one way for the two of us if necessary.

hi.. flying in on leaving afternoon of friday the 20th is a bit problematic.. there is a flight getting in to santa fe at 9 pm. but it has a very short layover in denver which means I would probably miss connection.. so it looks like sat the 21st is better if I fly into santa fe.. (flying to albuquerque is easier but then I have to get to santa fe from there and I think that is a schlep unless you know some easy transport from there).. sat I can get a flight leaving early in the morning and getting in around 127 in the afternoon. Let me know.
