

From: "Kickstarter" [REDACTED]
To: <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Subject: Projects We Love: Music for aliens, Darwin for kids, and comics for coders
Sent: Thursday, September 22, 2016 10:05:58 PM

It's amazing how much data can teach us about creativity. One example: Polygraph's beautifully interactive visualization of Kickstarter projects by U.S. city. The study puts numbers behind some of our anecdotal hunches (yes, L.A. produces a huge percentage of Film projects) and shines a light on trends we hadn't yet noticed. Explore it here.

Voyager Golden Record: 40th Anniversary Edition

By Ozma Records

Launched into space in 1977, the Voyager Golden Record was a sonic snapshot of Earth created to poetically explain life on our planet to anyone — or anything — that might be out there. This new box set will allow human fans of the historic project to rediscover its glory on vinyl.

Darwin's 'On the Origin of Species:' A Picture Book Adaptation

By Sabina Radeva

Help introduce Darwin's theories of evolution and natural selection to a generation of young readers with this charming picture book.

Dual Universe

By Novaquark

Create an intergalactic empire, build space stations, and trade your own inventions in this MMORPG that puts the fate of the world in its players' hands.

CommitStrip: Rise of the Coders

By CommitStrip

This developer-themed comic — chock full of server, software, and script jokes — offers a peek into the lives of those who spend their days writing, inventing, and exploring in code.

Bright ideas, kinetic results.

These STEM projects are shaping the future.

Don't want to keep getting Projects We Love? That's okay, you can unsubscribe.

Kickstarter ·
58 Kent St, Brooklyn NY 11222 ·
www.kickstarter.com ·
Contact Us ·
We're Hiring