Rich Kahn and I spoke today re the airplane. He suggested I undertake some field work by talking to a competitor of Jet Aviation to get a sales pitch on how plane would be managed, eg get skinny on pilots (can I get by with two and hire a third when needed), hangar benefits and implications on plane for not using hangar. This would be a way to get third party info to better assess Jet Aviation costs and to negotiate renewal. I was going to select Signature or Landmark – they have a FBO network across the globe. I wanted to get your approval.
