Peggy Siegal is back in NY on way home to get ready for an event tonight. She says her bday is tomorrow (not that she wants anything!) but when you see her tomorrow "I'll be 67 but don't look it". She also say her lawyers are now waiting on her brothers back up accounting. They don't know if they will get it or if could be lousy and they could take him to court. If need be they could set an injunction so he can no longer take money from the acct.

If you want to call her she should be available.
