otally unrelated. This makes it possible for you to call your facebook friends (typically - way too many of them) that connected their Skype to Facebook (way too few of them). Facebook considers this partnership to be dead.

Hi, attached is a 2pager about Viber, more to come later.

If you compare our traffic today (messaging and talk minutes) to skype we are already 50% of their size.

As to what you said about skype using Facebook to integrate phone book and users, we do not see it.

Thank you
