Jeffrey,

DCA Landing permission update:

I have 8am meeting Friday morning with dhs Department of Homeland Security for Palm beach office inspection for DCA landing approval process.

Heli update:

Main rotor bolts are scheduled to arrive tomorrow morning FedEx, best scenario is Friday afternoon delivery of helicopter and test flights.

I am currently scheduled to depart Miami Friday evening on last flight to St Thomas, departs Miami at 6:45pm to arrive in STT at 9:15pm.

Do you have a wheels up time for Saturday yet?

thx,
Larry

Hi Larry,

We are supposed to receive the bolts from California tomorrow in FEDEX, they cannot guarantee early AM but I am pushing for that... I feel the best we could hope for is to deliver sometime Friday and that might be a stretch... I have never used this vendor before and my fingers are crossed of the condition and delivery...

We need to build up yoke, install on aircraft, install blades, run leak check engines, balance both main rotor drive shafts, tail rotor and main rotor.
