Below from Amy in [REDACTED] office re breakfast or lunch next week:

Jeff is currently en route from Europe back to the city. I will discuss with him first thing tomorrow and will then be in touch. He will be traveling at the beginning and the end of next week, so it might be a bit difficult to get this on the calendar. That said, I am certain he would very much like to meet with Jeffrey, so we will see if we can move some things around.
