I wanted a beautiful, respectful, peaceful talk and you won't give me that. So now we are in the crazy cycle of you hiding and me chasing.... Please, let's just bring it back to calmness. Chat with me. Let me hear your voice

This is crazy! I am meeting Samantha Marshal today to talk to her about your recommendation. I have a lunch on Wed with the UN guy for the same. Despite the cold way you are treating me I'm trying to help you. Let's just be adults and talk!

[REDACTED] Just pick up your phone and call me. I am not a monster. I am not the enemy. I am someone who loves you. I have had some of the best memories in my life with you. Can you just call me? 5 minutes?

I have been feeling sick for days and haven't had a full or peaceful night sleep since you left. I just need a little time to hear your voice and share some thoughts and feelings. Nothing dramatic, confrontational or painful. I want it to be light. Please [REDACTED]....

[REDACTED]. It doesn't have to be good bye. And it doesn't have to be a restart. It is just a brief talk. I just need a little bit of time to talk. I am not asking for much. Can you at least offer me that?

Hi Stan ,
I know we set a time to meet today but I have to cancel it . It's painful to see you now and I am not ready to say "good bye" to you ...
