Your glucose is 58 or a1c is 5.8?

A 5.8 if your glucose is under 100 is probably totally fine.

I did vitamin b "super B complex". I think it helped. My theory is it reduces binding to red blood cells. It might just be faking the test or helping.

They recently lowered the thrreshold for a1c as well. Now I'm thinking they don't know what it means.

What's your a1c and fasting glucose?
