Moishe is the most incredible person and LITERALLY the kindest person in the whole world. I feel like I have come face to face with an angel.
I am planning a day for him that I think he will love.
I have Never met a person who literally does not judge.
We are not for each other ito relationship in my little opinion but that aside
He needs my Jeffrey...I feel it inside me. With someone like you he could fly. I hope that you will be able to meet him soon again...
