Hello, I just wanted to give you a heads-up about some trash-talking about you on some public forums. I feel that some people are incorrectly portraying you and some of the posts are meant to discredit you and what you have earned. The forums in question are located at:

Airlinepilotcentral.com <<http://Airlinepilotcentral.com>> : <http://www.airlinepilotforums.com/hangar-talk/73134-gulfstream-girl.html>
Pilots of America.com <<http://Pilots of America.com>> :
<http://www.pilots of America.com/forum/showthread.php?t=57332>

Both posts can be viewed without registering.

I feel you have accomplished a lot for such a young woman and can potentially be an inspiration to thousands of female pilots. Networking websites have a way of negatively impacting a person's career if enough people buy the story. Please set the record straight.

Thanks and safe flying...
