Hello Jeffrey,

If all the gold bars of the Fed were in the shape of my art pieces, then the gold reserve would not need an audit. Because one cannot cast these art pieces in tungsten, because the weight is the same but the smelt temperature is not. A tungsten piece would lack all the fine details. It would be so hard to cast.

Only with the brick shape one can be fooled.

So tell the Fed to stop the brick shape.

We found another reason to own gold.

Looking forward to this dialogue,

Wim
