I do understand about the life preserver. Am I really drowning? I don't know who I am if there isn't a camera going off somewhere near my face. (Just kidding)

The Max Planck Society is a pretty large organization, composed of a lot of different institutes all over Germany. The main seat is here in Munich, I think, as is their Psychiatric Institute, which is very well known and well respected. Which institute do you mean, or do you mean the MPG as a whole? I would research a lot for your foundation, but I'm not sure how much access my brain has to hard science. What are you interested in?

How was the Island? are you in Paris now?
