hi sunshine...
thanks for all you do for me (and steve) and mostly for still being my friend after all these years.

i was trying to think of a present for you that you would enjoy and i could enjoy with you.
i found a super awesome 1970 barracuda that you and i could both drive - but then i remembered that you can't drive!

ricky wurman (?? is he weird/mentally challenged?) is playing email tag with me. maybe because i am in doctor mode - but feels like he's got a touch of the dementia? i will keep trying, i want to be involved in (www)2.

i'm on service at harborview right now, some of the things people do to their brains over the holidays are fascinating.

steve is a little stressed right now so he's not answering my questions about travel nyc/island but when he starts thinking about "real life" again i will ask him i do appreciate your generosity and as always your patience with me

miss you a lot
