Yes let's speak after 11 eastern. I can call you then or please try my cell.

I understand that this process has become frustrating for both of us. The majority of your points are not unreasonable per se, and it should be feasible to incorporate them but it takes us in a very different direction that what we discussed in Paris... which was a simple two page letter agreement covering the key points but based on a fundamental trust and simplicity.

If the documents and structure need to be more institutionalised with Escrow and fiduciaries, it definitely affects how Jacob and I had first imagined this – with your very significant help.

Solina now says she is fine with whatever structure and will sign within 24 hours of receiving the documents. The Kuoks and Jacob's father are in the same place. So I think we can either 1) make sufficient adjustments that you are comfortable while not lawyering it to death, 2) run parallel vehicles, one with you governed by more comprehensive documents, and one for the others based on the two page concept. Bottom line is we really want you involved, your advice, guidance and mentorship has been critical thus far and moreover, we have much bigger plans for this beyond the first $50 to $80 million which we believe you would make the perfect partner for us.

So let's see if we can resolve the differences today or over the weekend.

Best wishes,
<=iv>

Ian

Jeffrey,

Did you have any additional points on the investment letter and JV le=ter which you did not raise before you had to head back to the board meetin= when we spoke earlier? If so, I can give you a brief call.

Kind regards,

Jonathan<=span>
