Subject: Re: mah jong NOT women dominated.

Would be an interestin= to attempt to make an intellectually stimulating game where women outper=rm men.

Unless women are =nherently inferior to the maximally talented man at all tasks ;) I think t=ere's some material which says women may be better endurance athletes =eg, long distance swimming) as an existential proof a women might be bette= than the best man.

I'=m reminded of the most-likely-not-Einstein quote:

"Everybody is a genius. But if you judge a fish by its ability to =limb a tree, it will live its whole life believing that it is stupid.=quot;

In any case, it's a fun experiment. If you fail to make such a=game, you provide evidence of universal inferiority which would inform you=(society) to not invest in gender diversity as much, if you make one then =ou'd probably learn more about how to get value out of female employee=.

From what I heard from locals in China, which was an anecdote and not fact, women were better players. So one would have to consider the skill level at all states in many circles.
