We've got posh pads in cities just a hop, skip and a jump away this week. South Beach's legendary Shore Club is on prime party real estate and has a vast rooftop spa, Nobu restaurant, and the sceney Skybar. A block off the Strip, the Signature at MGM Grand delivers a tranquil (read: non-gaming) take on Vegas with apartment-like suites and cabana-lined pools, while New York's elegant Helmsley Park Lane has jaw-dropping views of Central Park South. The fun continues over the pond: Mini Cooper cars are among the amenities on offer at Hotel Miramar, a sleek sleep in Barcelona's leafy Montjuïc quarter, and Paris' Hotel de Crillon has a bull's eye location and white glove service. Sweet retreats, indeed.

Sea Views and City Action in Barcelona

Hotel Miramar - Barcelona

<<http://click.mail.jetsetter.com/?qs=94b4ebf266d16a82a9febb755d3e168a6f9d97bb1289ca05eeab6037f545dca1eb4b967ebf3ea2a9>>

Hotel Miramar is one of Barcelona's most attractive hotels, fittingly located in the city's most picturesque, tree-lined quarter. It's the choice for travelers who prefer a relaxing, out-of-the-way atmosphere along with convenient, modern extras like a spa, indoor and outdoor swimming pools and the use of the hotel's Mini Coopers. The hotel's elevated position affords views across Barcelona's rooftops and out to the Mediterranean, but the city action along La Rambla is just a short drive away.

The Helmsley Park Lane's crown jewel is a jaw-dropping view of Central Park. Rising 46 stories above the lush treetops, the stately building gazes down on the park's serene pond, and houses 599 rooms done in muted beige, green and gold, flat-screen televisions and Gilchrist & Soames bath products. A sense of peace prevails, but the bustle of Central Park South lies just beyond.

Avant-garde style meets historic Italy at this 16th-century villa retreat close to Romeo and Juliet's city of Verona. The beautifully restored architecture, verdant gardens and romantic vibe nod to a classic Italian escape, but look a little closer and the Byblos's unique character is revealed in the Crayola-box color scheme, modernist decor and contemporary art collection by Damien Hirst, Anish Kapoor and others. Don't miss a treatment in the subterranean Espace spa - it's styled on the ancient city of Pompeii - or a relaxing dip in the outdoor pool.

There's a reason the Shore Club has become a South Beach classic. Actually, many reasons. Guests come here - again and again - to try the 75 rums on offer at Rumbar. They come because some of Miami's most prized restaurants can be found at the Shore Club, from an outpost of Nobu to Robert DeNiro's Tuscan-inspired Ago. They return because they remember how their classic, streamlined guest room felt like a second home - fun and not at all fussy.

The lovingly restored building that houses No.1 Pery Square Hotel stands proudly in Limerick's Georgian Quarter. With just 20 guestrooms, this hotel mixes an intimate vibe with a bustling restaurant and a lively bar. It may be in the middle of town, but once through the door, you're already in another world: an urban oasis with an underground, vaulted spa and plenty of personal touches.

Set along the emerald-green banks of the River Ness, Inverness makes the perfect base for exploring Scotland's past: clans, castles, the famed Loch Ness and the centuries-old distilleries. By contrast, Rocpool Reserve is a place that exists very much in the present. The strikingly modern 11-room hotel has the feel of a big-city boutique hotel and a restaurant that would make any dining capital proud. The cosmopolitan look, however, comes with a gorgeous setting that's just a few minutes from the wilds of the Scottish Highlands, and service that's small-town friendly.

In the heart of San Francisco's theater district, the boutique Hotel Adagio sits on the doorstep of the city's best shopping and dining. With walnut surfaces and other warm tones, the feel is modern but inviting, typical of the well-appointed style of the Joie de Vivre family. Within a jewel box of a Renaissance village overlooking some of Tuscany's most beautiful countryside, it's easy to understand why films like Romeo and Juliet, The English Patient and Gladiator were all filmed nearby. This 37-room hotel in a 15th-century convent feels like part of a romantic movie set and provides a quiet base for jaunts to hill towns like Montalcino, Montepulciano and Siena. Even on an island brimming with charm, style, and romance, Ubud Hanging Gardens is something special. Set about 25 minutes outside of Ubud, Bali's arts and culture hub, the hotel's lush grounds cascade down the side of an Ayung River gorge, surrounded by rice terraces, the rainforest and an ancient temple (a funicular helps ferry guests up and down the property.) The 38 villas all have private plunge pools and relaxation cabanas, while the on-site restaurants and spa highlight local products and ingredients. The result is a dreamy hideaway that feels very much a part of its surroundings.

What happens when you cross Spain with Africa? You get the Canary Islands, an archipelago with near perfect equatorial weather and wild geography. The dozen islands here have long been popular with tourists for their beautiful beaches, warm sunny climate, national park and the world's third largest volcano, but only recently have the quiet roads emerged as a hot cycling destination. On this trip with Ciclismo Classico you will experience a huge variety of natural settings, as you pedal along the unspoiled coastline, through forests and deserts and mountains, traversing the slopes of volcanoes along the way. The big challenge will be the day you ascend a 6,300-foot peak to the highest point on Gran Canaria.
