Interesting that I the first operation appears to have been very =eneficial - my right art is coming back and I can do things now I =ouldn't do before surgery (like hang up an overcoat, grab a quart of =ilk, drink a cup of coffee with just the right hand). And being in =etween surgeries the O'Leary told me not to work out, so it's all about =he nerves coming back which was the goal.

This is very good news.

How do I feel? The neck and area of surgery is pain free and fine. But I =eel in general undefined lousy (very tired at end of day, unable to =leep through the night, no appetite) which I am coming to learn from =ou and others is the most likely due to the effects of anesthesia. One =onth per every hour under.

Also, having to deal with the up in the air state 2nd surgery is =nnerving. Went to see my own internist (who is a cardiologist) who says =y heart is fine. Going to the surgeon, O'Leary, on Monday to see what =e wants to do. My internist suggests I take thenew reports, vatscan, =-ray, and MRI, and send it to the Munich surgeon for his opinion. He =ad originally said do one operation, wait and see because it may take =are of the problem.

Best,
