Dear Richard,

I prepared some samples =or Mr. Epstein for today. I did not waist time as there is a lot of =ork in the Library. However, I need his approval to continue. Tonight I =ill go back and start installation of the doors and panels.

Dear Richard,

I am not =ure whether the photos depict the column right. I looked at it and does =ot do the justice to what you have on the column. I hope you can see =he details like even changing the white areas into rubbed ones and =mphasing crabs. Making the rope "wet" looking. contrasting the rubbed =reas with white, and looking at the entire column as a whole. =/div>

All the columns are looking different, as somebody =ould work previously on them, and some of them are =ver-rubbed, some of them are not rubbed at all. The upper part also, I =prepared a sample, so Mr. Epstein can see the difference.

Dear Richard,

It is after 9:20 pm and I tried to text Ann, but she did not answer. My suspicion is, she is already asleep. I will try to send you photos if I can.

Then I emphasized certain elements even more, like rope, net, rabs. This work requires more than finisher to do it. I have high hopes, than this time Mr. Epstein will like the work. If he accepts finishing this way, I will finish it may be even this coming week, providing, I can work 10-12 hours a day. I do not want to work even longer hours, because you are not sharp and still you can spoil delicate balance required for this finish.
