

---

From: Nowak, Martin A. [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, September 7, 2016 11:51 AM
To: Joichi Ito [REDACTED]
Cc: jeffrey E.

"This world, I think,
Is indeed my world.
Like the full moon I shine,
Uncovered by any cloud"

This poem is known as Mochizuki no Uta (望月の歌) (Full Moon Poem). In 1018, his daughter Ishi became Empress (Chūgū) of Emperor Go-Ichijō, Kenshi became Empress Dowager (Kōtaigō), and Shōshi was Grand Empress Dowager (Tai-Kōtaigō). Three of his daughters became Empresses. Furthermore, both Emperor Go-Ichijō and Crown Prince Atsunaga were his grandsons. This poem was composed at the party to celebrate his daughter's accession. He expressed his delight to win power in this poem.