So great to hear your voice/voicemail, JE!!! - so sorry I couldn't pick up during McPherson's talk on prodigy and the discussion on panel I was serving on...had an interesting lunch with Brian Devine, CEO of Petco....EvoNexus, an interesting start-up incubator, hosted Genius Night and got me thinking about getting going again on inventing/patenting a virtual Womb for all those premies we are breeding with zero auditory/language/music enrichment in Neonatal ICUs these days (8-12% of all births in the US and EU, and rising)...getting ready to drive back to LA...I'm free to talk anytime now through the rest of the day at your convenience 310-917-7879...for fun: check out Mendelssohn Symphony No. 1 (Op. 11) - performed last night at the Balboa Theatre by the Festival Orchestra - can't believe Felix's age when he wrote that!xxx
