The general rule is that US citizens should apply i= the USA. If they apply in other countries, everything will depend on the C=nsulate and how they will see it. There is definitely no guarantee you will=be able to get your visas there.

Do you ne=d to travel to Russia on those dates you specified or it can be moved?

You have several options:

1. Do a multiple-entry and move your trip to Russia.
2. Do a tourist visa for now and get your multiple-entry once you are b=ck from your first trip to Russia for your future trips there.
3. Do a double-entry 3-month business visas.

=span>Please advise.

If you want, we can di=cuss the situation over the phone.

Thank y=u.

I just g=t a message from our Moscow office that due to the holidays the earliest th= visa can be done is January 28. Will that work for you? Otherwise, we can d= a regular tourist visa first and then proceed with the multiple one.

Thank you.

nastasia, I am traveling and do not have access to a printer right now. Is the attached acceptable?

Also, do we need to travel to Russia by a certain day to "validate" or start the visa, or can it be any time within the year period which it is valid for? Thank you again for your help.
