

December 2015

Dear Friends,

While I am not a fan of winter, I look forward to celebrating the birth of the Savior and the happy times this season brings. I also look forward to writing to all of you and catching up on all the good things that the past year brings to each of us. It is sad that I do not correspond with you all more often, I am thankful for this time of year when I do.

We were able to take a family cruise. [REDACTED] all went on a [REDACTED] My [REDACTED] had a good time on the cruise. My father spent a lot of time in the state room in bed. We visited [REDACTED] [REDACTED] I bought more nativities in 3 countries. We got back to the USA the [REDACTED] and had 16 friends over for turkey dinner

My mom and I canned and froze the produce from the garden we had this summer it. I let my mom do all the weeding and I do the mowing over 2-3 days so, we make a good team.

I wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year.

Friend always,

Carol Montgomery
