

---

From: Gi Feather [REDACTED] on behalf of Gerald Barton
Sent: Monday, August 13, 2012 1:16 PM
To: Jeevacation@gmail.com
Subject: Kiawah Island

Jeffrey,

This weekend the PGA of America had their national championship at The Ocean Course at Kiawah Island. When I hired Pete Dye to design the course, I told him Frank Lloyd Wright said "A house should not be on the hill, but of the hill." I asked him to build the course not on the beach, but of the beach. If you had an opportunity to view the sensational television coverage, you would understand he accomplished my request. It is satisfying to see how an amenity in a great, but off-location site, can be the core in building one of the greatest second home communities in the world.

Doug and I were fortunate to be honored guests. We had an opportunity to visit with many, many old friends. One of them was the famous golf writer, Alan Shipnuck, who is the senior writer for Sports Illustrated. The link to his impression of that visit is:

[REDACTED]

Jerry

Gerald G. Barton
[REDACTED]

DISCLAIMER: This e-mail message, including any attached files and subsequent replies, is intended only for the exclusive use of the individual or entity to which it is addressed and may contain information that is proprietary, privileged, confidential and/or exempt from disclosure under applicable law. If the reader of this e-mail message is not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any viewing, copying, disclosure or distribution of this communication is strictly prohibited. If you have received this e-mail in error, please notify the sender immediately by either telephone or e-mail, and delete the original and any copies from your computer system. Thank you.