Lesley sent this email to you stating that [REDACTED] was not registered yet at the school. She asked me to follow up since she was going on vacation. I called the school again, and was told she was not registered yet and once she was, she would be given the name of a Financial Student Associate and we can just call and pay with a credit card. I informed [REDACTED] of this, and she sent me an email on Dec 22 saying she would contact the school again and send me the number and name for the Financial Associate in order to call and make payment once she was properly registered. She is planning on starting classes on Feb 13. I have not heard back from her yet and sent her another email on Monday asking if she has registered and has the proper contact info so we can make payment.

I called [REDACTED] re [REDACTED]; He basically said she needs to let the school know that you wish to pay for her classes. He said he does not see her registered and didn't want to give me much information. He said WE would need to write a letter stating you are supporting her...he needs her anticipated arrival date and asked if I knew her SEVIS immigration #.

I did get from [REDACTED] that a 3 month course is about $840 but he said there are other costs involved and he could not give me an exact number.

I believe she will need to make a call to [REDACTED] and we need to have Darren write a letter possibly?

Please advise from here.
