One of the attendees, my good friend Brock Pierce (off-scal=), is responsible for building up a multi-billion dollar new form of virtu=l currency and trading in on-line gaming. It occurred to me that taking so=e of your methods from the real world of finance, trading, etc., could be =pplicable here. This hasn't been done before, and could make for some rath=r interesting and extremely profitable results. The smart boys, like yours=l, from the real world of finance haven't gone in there yet. I don't thin= they know about it, much less understand it yet, because it isn't on thei= respective menus yet. Perhaps something is there, perhaps not, but it wou=d be interesting to explore with him.
